Guv to Mann: Prez rule can be imposed in Punjab

In a sharp escalation of the tussle between Punjab Governor Banwarilal Purohit and Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann, the former on Friday warned that he could recommend President's rule in the state and also launch criminal proceedings if his letters are not answered. The ruling Aam Aadmi Party in Punjab responded quickly to the governor's 'threat', telling the Centre to impose President's rule in Manipur and Haryana instead. P12

GOVT WARNS MEDIA AGAINST GAMBLING ADS

Ahead of sporting events such as Asia Cup and World Cup cricket tournaments, the government on Friday warned media outlets against publishing advertisements of online betting platforms, failing which they will face legal action. In an advisory to newspapers, television channels, digital media and social media platforms, the Information and Broadcasting Ministry asked them to refrain from showing advertisement of betting and gambling.

SC transfers 27 Manipur riots cases to Assam

All of them under CBI probe; orders issued despite stiff opposition by many petitioners

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday transferred 27 cases — related to crimes against women and children in Manipur that are being probed by the CBI — to Assam for trial and tasked Gauhati High Court chief justice Sandeep Mehta to nominate one or more judges to take charge of them.

A bench comprising Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud and justices J B Pardiwala and Manoj Misra rejected the submissions of many lawyers, who opposed the transfer of CBI cases to Assam. They went with the recommendation of Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Centre and the Manipur government, who said the transfer was suggested keeping in mind better internet connectivity in Assam. Besides, both states share a border.

"Instead of troubling the judges in Manipur, let one sessions judge be designated at Assam. Situation has improved," Mehta said.

Addressing apprehensions of petitioners on pre-trial hearings in Assam, the CJI said, "no order was cast in stone". He added that the order will be reviewed after the commencement of the actual trial.

"When the actual trial starts, we will review this order. At that stage, if we find that Manipur has returned to normalcy, we will bring the cases back to be tried in Manipur. We can do that under Article 142 of the Constitution... What we are doing now is only for the present moment," the CJI said.

ACCUSED TO STAY IN MANIPUR

The accused won't be transported to Assam; they will be in judicial custody in Manipur. The SC directed the Manipur HC to nominate local magistrates for recording statements of witnesses and survivors

Expressing concerns about fair trial, the bench said, "There have been victims in the valleys of Manipur and there have been victims in the hills of Manipur. People belonging to community A have suffered, people belonging to community B have suffered... We are not on who suffered more...We are concerned about fair trial... There are some immediate things to be done like production of accused, judicial remands, extension of remands, recording the statements of victims and witnesses, etc."

WHO SOUGHT MODI, XI MEET? NEW DELHI, BEIJING DIFFER

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

INDIA on Friday countered China's claim that the conversation between Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Chinese President Xi Jingping in Johannesburg took place on New Delhi's request.

"There was a pending request from the Chinese side for a bilateral meeting. The two leaders, however, had an informal conversation in the leaders' lounge during the BRICS Summit," said a source. The Indian version came after the Chinese foreign ministry issued a readout of the conversation, stating they met on India's request, adding the talks were in-depth and candid.

"President Xi Jingping spoke with PM Modi on the sidelines of the BRICS Summit at India's request. An in-depth exchange of views on current China-India relations and other questions of shared interest took place. President Xi stressed that improving China-India relations serves the common interest of the two countries and peoples and is conducive to peace, stability and development of the world and the region. The two sides should bear in mind the overall interests of their bilateral relations and handle properly the border issue so as to jointly safeguard peace and tranquillity in the border region," stated the Chinese readout.

Narendra Modi and Xi Jinping

On Thursday, Foreign Secretary Vinay Mohan Kwatra had said, "On the sidelines of the BRICS Summit, Prime Minister Modi in a conversation with President Xi Jingping, highlighted his concerns on the unresolved issues on the LAC in the Western Sector of the India-China border. PM Modi underlined that the maintenance of peace and tranquility in the border areas and observing and respecting the LAC are essential for normalisation of India-China relationship. In this regard the two leaders agreed to direct their relevant officials to intensify efforts at expeditious disengagement and de-escalation."

100 taluks may be declared drought-hit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE state government is likely to declare more than 100 taluks as drought-hit in view of a severe shortage of rainfall.Agriculture Minister N Cheluvarayaswamy told reporters on Friday that a crop survey is being conducted across the state and officials have been instructed to submit a report by August 30. By September, the government is expected to announce a list of drought-hit taluks as per the guidelines of the Centre.

Around 130 taluks are facing a drought-like situation. "We cannot declare them drought-hit without conducting the crop survey. Officials are conducting the survey across the state and once it is done, we will send a report to the Centre. We will get a clear picture in the first week of September," he said. On whether the government will go for cloud seeding, the minister said the earlier initiatives in this regard have not given positive results.

The minister, who held a review meeting with officials, said sowing has been completed on 79% of the targeted land with good rains initially. NO SC RELIEF TO TN: P6

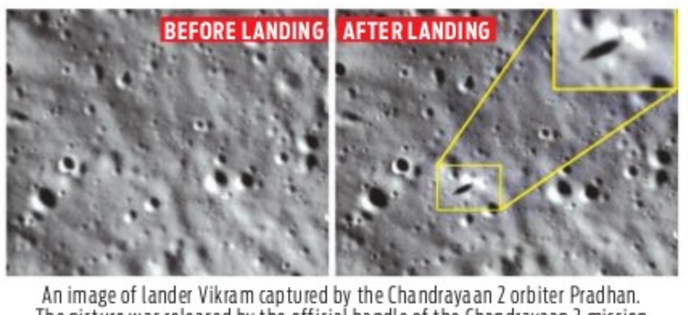
Rover Pragyaan moves 8 metres, its payloads turned on

PURAN CHOUDHARY @Bengaluru

A day after rolling down the Chandrayaan 3's lander Vikram's ramp and doing its first "moon walk", rover Pragyaan's both payloads were turned on even as it completed a distance of eight metres. Pragyaan was deployed from the lander in the wee hours of Thursday.

In a statement on X, ISRO said, "All planned rover movements have been verified. The rover has successfully traversed a distance of about 8 metres. Rover payloads LIBS (Laser-Induced Breakdown Spectroscope) and APXS Alpha Particle X-ray Spectrometer are turned on. All payloads on the propulsion module, lander and rover are performing nominally." (Sic)

The space agency also shared a video on how the ramp on Vikram's lander facilitated the roll-down for Pragyaan, besides how its solar panel was deployed. "A two-segment ramp facilitated the roll-down of the rover. A solar panel enabled the rover to generate power," ISRO said.



An image of lander Vikram captured by the Chandrayaan 2 orbiter Pradhan. The picture was released by the official handle of the Chandrayaan 3 mission

Pragyaan is now functioning with two active payloads. The Alpha Particle X-Ray Spectrometer (APXS) will derive the chemical composition and infer mineralogical composition to further enhance our understanding of lunar surface, while Laser Induced Breakdown Spectroscope (LIBS) will determine the elemental composition of the lunar soil and rocks around the lunar landing site.

Vikram's payloads were turned on Thursday morning. The RAMBHA-LP (Langmuir Probe) has begun measuring the near surface plasma (ions and electrons) density and its changes with time. P7

IIMB ideology war: Citizens counter professors' letter on hate speech

Retired officers, defence veterans claim the open letter will lead to social anarchy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a war of words, a letter written by 17 professors from the Indian Institute of Management Bangalore (IIM-B) on August 8, on misinformation and hate speech, found a counter in another letter on Friday, written by 23 citizens to the IIM-B chairman, condemning the former group's "ideological bias and bankrupt mindset".

The group of 17 faculty members, including six retired persons, had addressed an open letter to Corporate India, appealing to them to "de-fund the spread of misinformation and hate speech" through news channels and social media.

The second group of citizens are retired IAS, IPS, IFS, IRS officers and Defence services veterans residing in Karnataka. The group also accused the institution and its faculty members of misusing their autonomy, and claimed "it will lead to anarchy and social instability".

The recent letter read that silence from citizens will trigger similar activities, and statements from "chest-thumping and rabble-rousing, so-called academicians, that will damage, irreparably, the credibility and reputation of IIM-B", and discredit the atmosphere in Karnataka.

The letter is signed by several former civil servants, such as K Sreedhar Rao, former chief secretary, Govt of Sikkim, and former security adviser, Government of India, SL Gangadharappa, former principal secretary, Government of Karnataka (GOK), M Madan Gopal, former Additional Chief Secretary (GOK) and several others. The group dismissed the first group's claims of "increasing risk of violent conflicts", "hatred towards minorities", "genocide", "annihilation of social fabric" and "silence of authorities".

"The so-called "hollow fears of the signatories" is nothing but a figment of the imagination and reflects their diabolical agenda to weaken the resolve of the people and forces, who are toiling day and night to fulfil the dream and goals of Amrit Kaal," read the letter, addressed to Devi Prasad Shetty, chairman, IIM-B, central minister for education, Dharmendra Pradhan and Sanjay Murthy, secretary, higher education.

The open letter written by Indian academics had sought accountability and responsibility from corporates.

The letter had cited 15 media reports from various national and international outlets to support its argument of increased risk of violent conflicts in the country.

The opposing group said, "We are confident that Corporate India is fully aware of ground realities and will not be carried away by the uninvited advice of armchair academicians who are living in self-imposed ignorance."

The wet waste plant is in the heart of the residential layout in Banashankari | EXPRESS

Residents of Banashankari want wet waste plant shut

PURAN CHOUDHARY @ Bengaluru

RESIDENTS of Banashankari, 6th Stage, have been facing a tough time because of the stench emanating from the wet waste processing plant in their layout since its inception. What has made matters worse for them is the mosquito menace due to the plant at Lingadgeeranahalli in the heart of their layout.

With the civic authorities remaining mute to several pleas, the Banashankari 6th Stage Residents' Welfare Association has appealed to the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) to close down the plant, alleging that it is not following NGT rules. The association has also complained that leachate from the waste dumped at the plant is flowing into the nearby Sompura Lake.

TS Mahesh, president of the association, said, "We filed a complaint with KSPCB 10 days ago and officials from the Board visited the layout and collected samples for tests. But we haven't heard from them so far. Despite filing several objections against the plant, no action has been taken."

He said the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike's (BBMP) Solid Waste Management (SWM) Department has not taken any action though the association filed several complaints urging it to address the problem being faced by the residents.

The layout has 14 blocks and the wet waste processing plant is in the middle of the 4th block. There are more than 10,000 houses in the layout. The plant handles around 150 tonnes of wet waste every day. With the personnel at the plant not handling the wet waste in a scientific manner, the area has become a breeding ground for mosquitoes, residents alleged.

The residents said the plant should not have been built in the layout. Demanding its relocation, Krishnamurthy, a resident, said, "Many are suffering from rashes, itching, burning sensation and other allergies because of the chemicals used at the plant to reduce the foul smell. The KSPCB has been asked to monitor the plant, but it hasn't done anything."

A few residents have been threatened not to protest against the plant. "My house is within 500 metres of the plant and no buffer zone has been marked as per rules," Krishnamurthy said.

The residents said the original plan was to build a college in 2015 at the site where the plant has come up.

JAYARAM INSPECTS LEACHATE PROCESSING UNIT

Palike's South Zone Commissioner Jayaram Raipura inspected the new leachate processing unit at Chikkanagamangala Waste Treatment Plant on Friday. He said the 300-tonne capacity unit processes 280 tonnes of waste daily. Leachate processing is being done on a trial basis now. After getting clearance from the KSPCB, the unit will be begin full-scale operation.

INTERNATIONAL DOG DAY

Bengaluru sees a decline in dog adoptions

PURAN CHOUDHARY @Bengaluru

ON the occasion of International Dog Day on Saturday, several NGOs in the city have complained of an increase in trauma cases of pets and a gradual decline in adoption numbers.

Activists want the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) to have 24 X 7 open government hospitals so that if any strays are poisoned, they can be identified immediately through post-mortem.

Toni Freer, the founder of Haven Animal Welfare Trust spoke to TNIE and said, "When strays are poisoned, it is mostly done at night. The body starts to decompose in the next 12 hours. If we have to catch the culprits we need cold storage facilities and an emergency response team."

Emphasising pet traumas, rescuers also want a toll-free number where issues of pet abandonment, poisoning, and abuse can be reported. They opined that there is very little support from the government to save strays in the city. Another activist said that the Animal Welfare Board of India (AWBI) should push for appointing specific people in police stations so that animal trauma cases are not ignored.

Lack of funds overburden shelter homes

A dog rescuer in the city reported that 15 dogs were abandoned recently, some tied to poles and left on roads, however, NGOs and individuals running shelters stopped enrolling pets in the shelter homes as they lack funds and the homes are highly overburdened.

Lakshmi Gowda a dog rescuer who founded Pet Adoption Bangalore Trust said, "We see around 15-20 trauma cases every day. We want to help them but we are dependent on crowdfunding. Currently, we are in a financial crunch and have pending hospital bills in lakhs."

Most of the pet NGOs report that they face the same ordeal.

Compassion Unlimited Plus Action (CUPA) which witnesses 150-200 trauma cases in a month is unable to accommodate any more dogs. Charlies Animal Rescue Centre (CARE) is another NGO that provides medical aid to injured animals. Speaking to TNIE, Keerthan RP, the manager of CARE said, "Because of lack of space, we are unable to foster any more pets that are comparatively healthy. We are looking at only trauma cases and their immediate treatment."

Every dog has its day!

To celebrate International Dog Day meaningfully, Augie a pet store based out of Bengaluru has planned to provide free premium dog food called Annamaet, imported from the USA to 500 stray dogs in the city. The store has tied up with several rescuers and dog NGOs to give out the food on Saturday. The cost of Annamaet varies between Rs 900-1400 per kg.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

26TH August : Saturday is an English word named after the ancient Roman God, Saturn, and the equivalent of the Indian Shani. In all traditions this planet indicates the duty, virtue, effort and responsibility. That's why I always find it odd that in western cultures Saturday is considered a day of rest. Perhaps people who value hard work do best!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
At last, an expansion of choice is creating the need for more discussion, and you may be doing some hard thinking today. A recent muddle must be ironed out before you can afford to relax, but that might take another couple of weeks, at the minimum.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The Moon offers you a significant level of emotional support today. This is a time to concentrate on what you can do to make your life more meaningful, to find ways to make your daily routine more tolerable. A business opportunity will also be revealed.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
It does seem almost inevitable that one way or another you will have to concede that someone else may have been right all along, galling as this may be. In any event, your planetary patterns will quickly restore your good humour, encouraging a new-found confidence.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Now that Venus is beginning to shed its calming rays over your intimate affairs you can afford to feel protected, yet don't be surprised if, in the process, it shows up certain corners of your life you had forgotten about or tried to ignore. Time for a romantic adventure, perhaps?

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
There is only one major planetary alignment which need concern you at the moment, and that involves Mars and Mercury. These planets are perfectly poised to administer a social tonic and give your morale a general boost, just what you need at the moment.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Seldom have you experienced a period which is at once so decisive yet has the potential to be so utterly confusing. Should you go or stay, begin or end a series of involvements that have become your whole life? Be patient and gradually the answers will work themselves out.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Belligerent Mars is stirring up your ambitions, indicating that this is really not a restful time for you, yet neither is it beyond you to take great strides forward. Other people will arrive bearing fresh responsibilities for you, and you'll also be searching out new business opportunities for yourself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There is a cynical side to the Scorpionic nature: what is the point, you may ask, in struggling on when so little seems to be gained? Yet with the planets rapidly assuming a profoundly benevolent relationship to your sign, there is little doubt that events are now starting to move your way.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The parts of your chart linked to material prosperity are still active and your business affairs seem to be growing ever more complex. What a tangled web you weave when you try! Now you must find your way out of any confusion, and reestablish some sort of certainty.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Whatever your day-to-day concerns, I must periodically remind you that the passage which you are now going through will be one of the most remarkable phases of your life. It is therefore necessary to make the most of everything, repeat everything, that comes your way.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
For many reasons, not least of which is a build-up of planets in personal regions of your horoscope, this is a time of year which appeals to your Aquarian spirit, yet it does seem that you are going to be busier than you would like, and much more preoccupied with routine tasks and chores than usual.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Your most supportive planets are now combining to raise your spirits, boost your morale and stimulate your interest in new areas. You therefore have no reason to feel down in the dumps and every cause to feel glad of the positive path you are now treading.

Two more held after Lankans' arrest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CONTINUING the investigation into the arrest of three Sri Lankan nationals involved in murder cases, the Central Crime Branch (CCB) team has arrested two suspects who were allegedly funding them and making arrangements to send them to a foreign country on Indian passports.

The arrested have been identified as ASK Mansur Ali, a resident of Chennai, and Anbalagan M, a resident of Vivekangar in Bengaluru. The police have recovered Rs 57 lakh in cash from Ali, who is alleged to be a drug dealer, while seizing 65 passports from Anbalagan, a passport agent.

The CCB police had arrested three Sri Lankans from an apartment in Yelahanka and investigations had revealed that two of them were involved in supari (contract) killings there and one had five murder cases against him, while the other had four.

The accused were arrested based on the information provided by one Jai Paramesh, who sheltered the Sri Lankan nationals in the city.

— CCB Police

"The accused were arrested based on the information provided by one Jai Paramesh, who sheltered the Sri Lankan nationals in the city. Paramesh received funds in cash and through online sources from Ali to arrange shelter for them. Paramesh was also trying to get Indian passports to the three foreigners with the help of Anbalagan. Both Ali and Anbalagan have been taken into police custody till September 1," the police said, adding that the Sri Lankans had come in contact with Ali through Jalal, who is absconding.

50k heart patients scanned under STEMI in 4 months

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

STEMI (ST Elevation Myocardial Infarction), a heart attack management programme launched in Karnataka to reduce the rising incidence of heart attack cases among all age groups, has screened 50,000 people since its inception in April 2023.

STEMI is a mass healthcare programme being implemented in five states -- Maharashtra, Goa, Odisha, Telangana and Karnataka. Shikhar Srivastava, STEMI in-charge of the implementation team, told TNIE that they managed to scan 50,000 people in four months in Karnataka. The project helped in timely screening and management of more than 1,684 critical cases.

Dr CN Manjunath, director, Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular and Research Sciences, said there has been a 22 per cent rise in heart attack cases among young and middle-aged groups in the past 10-15 years. The divide between rural and urban areas has also narrowed over the years, due to poor lifestyle changes, alcohol consumption, smoking, unhealthy diet, stress and lack of exercise.

The programme has helped cater to people, especially in rural areas where there are no experts to perform angioplasty or handle heart attack cases. Delay in treatment increases the risk of death by 7 per cent, Dr Manjunath explained. The project, operating on a hub-and-spoke model, was launched in 15 districts across Karnataka and is expected to be expanded in the next two months. In all, 45 health facilities that include taluk, district and general hospitals are upgraded as spokes for STEMI detection and thrombolysis, and are linked to Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research - Bengaluru, Mysuru, and Kalaburagi, equipped with cath lab facilities.

The focus is on immediate detection and intervention through pharmacoinvasive therapy. Dr Manjunath added that by thrombolysing patients within the 12-hour window, 24 hours can be gained for an angiogram/ angioplasty procedure in semi-urban and rural areas, where angioplasty is not readily available.

SC refuses to pass interim order on Cauvery

Top court seeks report from Cauvery Water Management Authority

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

AMIDST the controversy over sharing of Cauvery water between Tamil Nadu and Karnataka, the TN government suffered a setback on Friday as the top court refused to grant interim relief on the state's plea on the release of 24,000 cusecs of water. The court also sought a report from the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) on the status of discharge of water by Karnataka.

"Authorities consist of experts. We don't have that expertise. How can we pass an order? We'll call for a report from the authority whether the order is being complied with or not. All of you in one chorus are saying that it is not being complied with, while Mr Divan is saying that it is being complied with," said Justice BR Gavai, the presiding judge of the bench.

On being informed that the next Cauvery Water Regulation Committee's (CWRC) meeting to decide on the release of water by Karnataka for the next fortnight is scheduled for August 28, the bench also comprising Justices

PS Narasimha and PK Mishra directed the CWMA to submit the report by September 1.

The court recorded Karnataka's dissatisfaction regarding CWMAs order to release 10,000 cusecs of water to Tamil Nadu.

"Learned ASG Aishwarya Bhatti informs us that the CWRC meeting is to be held on Monday to consider the discharge of water for the next fortnight. It is submitted that thereafter, the matter will go to CWMA. We find that it will be appropriate that the CWMA submits its report as to whether the directions issued by it for discharge of water have been complied with or not. In the meantime, the orders with regard to discharge of water for the next fortnight will also be available. ASG is requested to communicate this order to the CWMA to obtain its report prior to next Friday," the Court said in its order.

The court was considering the TN government's plea that CWMA had on August 11, 2023, reduced the water to be released by Karnataka for 15 days (from August 11) from KRS and Kabini reservoirs to 10,000 cusecs (0.864 tmcft per day) from 15,000 cusecs. "But even this has not been complied with by the Karnataka government," Tamil Nadu said.

To convince the bench to pass orders directing Karnataka to release water, the TN government, represented by senior advocate Mukul Rohatgi, told the court that there is a huge deficit. "We want a protem order as of today for 15 days. I have a huge deficit from which I am only getting pittance," Rohatgi said.

Senior advocate Shyam Divan appearing for the Karnataka government pointed to the "distress condition" in the Cauvery basin in the state because of the failure of southwest monsoon.

Mekedatu dam only solution to river issue, says Deputy CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Mekedatu Cauvery balancing reservoir is the only solution to solve Cauvery water issues, said Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, here on Friday.

Shivakumar, who is also the water resources minister, said, "The Mekedatu project will help us in such a distress season and help us tide over the crisis. We have informed the Supreme Court about this."

On the Supreme Court ordering the Cauvery Water Management Authority to monitor Karnataka's release of water to Tamil Nadu, he said, "The court itself has constituted the Cauvery Water Management Authority and there is also a technical committee. This time, they have to focus on the technical issues."

He said that in 2022, around 400 tmcft of Cauvery water will flow into the sea. Even if a small portion of it had been retained through the Mekedatu dam, this problem would not have arisen.

He said, "We cannot use Mekedatu dam water for irrigation as it can only be utilised for drinking water. We have raised this issue in our application. The Supreme Court needs to take note of this issue."

Shivakumar said, "We respect the court's order even though there is some opposition in our state. Our government has given all the information to the court and we are committed to protecting the interest of the farmers of our state. Tamil Nadu should have alerted its farmers not to sow, like we did."

He said, "Besides the BJP-backed politically motivated agitation in Mandya, none of the farmers in the state have expressed their opposition. "The Supreme Court has not taken any decision on the release of water. I want to tell the Supreme Court and the state government of Tamil Nadu that if there is a solution to this problem, the Mekedatu project is the only solution."

MY TAKE

CHANDRAYAAN-3: A LANDER, A ROVER ... AND A UNIFIER

NIRAD MUDUR
Deputy Resident Editor, Karnataka
niradgmudur@newindianexpress.com

IF the noise levels from all the joy and jubilation erupting at 6.04 pm on August 23, 2023 (IST) in India and around the world were to be measured in one go, it could have attained unimagined decibels. Alongside the jubilation were awe and wonder, surprise and elation, pride and contentment, and a whole slew of feelings and expressions. The only factor that was rightly and instinctively abandoned was hate. People hugged strangers, exchanged high-fives, danced with each other on the streets through smiles and tears of joy.

That was the moment Chandrayaan-3 mission made a precision soft-landing near the Moon's south pole and scripted history. It became the first mission in an uncharted lunar region. The mission involves a lander and a rover. But, following the landing, it became a unifier.

Indians and those of India origin abroad apart, it unified the entire community of space scientists and enthusiasts across borders. They are united in anticipation and hope of new findings by Chandrayaan-3's lander Vikram and rover Pragyaan. The two have set about their designated studies at and around the landing site near the lunar south pole. Their findings are expected to be of great value. Several space agencies are eyeing the lunar south pole for studies and experiments. They are aiming at ultimately setting up permanent bases, including NASA.

The US space agency is on a back-to-the-Moon mission with its Artemis program, planning to take four humans – including the first woman and first man of coloured race – and return them safely to Earth. They are looking at 2025-26, but before 2030.

The lunar south pole region is known to contain vast amounts of sub-surface water ice, water molecules and various minerals and elements considered useful to sustain human bases there. That is why the Moon's south pole is coveted. That is why the world is united in hope of Chandrayaan-3's success in its 14-day mission.

During the live telecast on National Geographic, NASA astronaut Sunita Williams said, "I'm so looking forward to seeing the scientific research that should come out of this landing and the rover taking samples. It's just going to be another great step in being able to have a sustainable living on the moon...!"

Canadian Chris Hadfield, former Commander of the International Space Station who flew two Space Shuttle missions, said, "It's pivotal to history ... It's a significant step for all of us and India is right at the forefront of that..."

That is the potential of science. It unifies humankind with common objectives and aims.

Days and hours ahead of the landing, people prayed in their respective places of worship, across communal boundaries created by us. They prayed for a common objective: the success of Chandrayaan-3. And their prayers were answered. They were also answered by the stupendous efforts and determination of the scientists from the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO), who worked tirelessly as one large unit through a raging pandemic. Their mission involved overcoming the anomalies of a preceding mission in September 2019, which failed to land as the lander crashed during the final moments of descent.

Science is neutral in every which way one sees it. The neutrality can be observed in all scientific applications to humans. If a group of astronauts belonging to different religions are put in a rocket, all of them will be subject to the same forces that are exerted on the human body during a lift-off. The forces do not act differently on different individuals based on their social, communal or political affinities.

Science unifies people at the individual, organisational, regional, national and international levels – all riding on the same hopes, aspirations and expectations. It recognises no boundaries. It is all-pervading. Its applications take no cognisance of divisions that we have created in our mind. Chandrayaan-3 has proved that as a unifier.

'35,000 farmers to get crop compensation of ₹35.9cr'

THOUGH there is no shortage of seeds or fertilizers, farmers might face crop loss for want of rain now. "Wherever there are irrigation facilities such as reservoirs, borewells and farm ponds, farmers may not face problems. Only those depending on the rain are in distress. If we get good rains in the next one week, at least 50% of the standing crops can be saved. But, we see no such signs," he said.

The minister said compared to previous years, ragi sowing has been completed only on 3.5 lakh hectares of land, tur dal on 2.5 lakh hectares, green gram on 2.27 lakh hectares, groundnut on 92,000 hectares and sunflower on 71,000 hectares.

"Crops have been affected in many taluks for want of rain. Under the crop insurance scheme, over 35,000 farmers from 194 gram panchayats in Bagalkot, Gadag, Belagavi and Tumakuru will get a compensation of Rs 35.9 crore," he said.

The minister said nodal officers have been appointed to visit all districts to get first-hand information on the drought situation. "I will start a district-wise tour to interact with farmers on August 29 from Chitradurga.

K'taka in the right direction

When asked about Tamil Nadu's petition in the Supreme Court for release of Cauvery water, Cheluvarayaswamy said the state's technical and legal team is very strong.

"We are moving in the right direction on the issue. We are committed to farmers' welfare and pursuing the case seriously. At the recent all-party meeting, leaders of opposition parties were happy with the government's action. But they oppose the government's move just because they are in the opposition. We will also meet Prime Minister Narendra Modi soon with an all-party delegation," he said.

MOON MOOD

'PM's visit to greet ISRO team, not for politics'

ENS @ Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi is all set to visit ISRO's MOX-2, ISTRAC (ISRO Telemetry, Tracking and Command Network) facility, in Peenya on Saturday morning, and congratulate the team of scientists, headed by ISRO Chairman S Somanath, for the successful landing of the Vikram lander on the lunar surface, as part of Chandrayaan 3 mission. He will arrive at HAL Airport at 5.55 am, with Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot and CM Siddaramaiah likely to be guests for the PM's programme as per protocol.

BJP sources informed TNIE that the PM's visit has nothing to do with the party, as there will be no programmes to that effect, and even the roadshow that was planned has been cancelled. But party workers are likely to gather in large numbers at HAL and also at Jalahalli Cross to greet the PM, as he passes through these locations.

Besides honouring scientists, Modi will hold a discussion with them between 7 am and 8 am, before leaving for the national capital. It, however, remains unclear whether the PM will meet BJP functionaries amidst his tight schedule.

"The success of Chandrayaan 3 has increased respect for our country. The PM encouraged the scientists, besides contributing funds and extending cooperation, which helped reach the goal quickly," remarked Union Minister of State for Agriculture Shobha Karandlaje.

It is Modi's first visit to Bengaluru after BJP's defeat in the May 10 Assembly polls in Karnataka. He had campaigned extensively in Bengaluru on May 6 and May 7.

No man's zone

Bengaluru City Police have made elaborate security arrangements, The PM will be stopping at two places for a few minutes at Systems Circle and Jalahalli Circle. Towards ISRO's ISTRAC, it's a complete no man's zone where no one will be allowed. There will be a special enclosure at both the circles, a senior police officer informed.

Start drought relief works to help farmers, say former CMs

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

MANY taluks are facing the grim spectre of drought as monsoon has been less than expected. Over 100 taluk officers have informed state authorities that rain yields have been poorer consistently right through June, July and August and seeds sown have gone bad forcing farmers to sow it the second time.

Former CM BS Yediyurappa on social media platform X stated that around 120 taluks are experiencing a grim situation. "Most of the dams are empty and our farming community is facing hardship as they cannot even do dry farming. I demand that the state government should not delay anymore and immediately declare them as drought-hit. The government should give compensation to farmers and start drought relief exercises," he added.

Former CM HD Kumaraswamy said, "Farmers have suffered great distress in many parts, but this government has been focussing on guarantees. They need to respond proactively to farmer's distress. Many farmers have taken loans and if crops fail, they will be left with huge debts."

He said that instead of talking about policy change, the government needs to step in to rescue farmers. In many areas, farmers have sown twice, but seeds have failed both times because of poor rain. The government should set aside water for irrigation to assist farmers and provide funds to support them financially.

Former agriculture minister BC Patil said, "Last year around this time monsoon had similarly failed. We had carried out surveys and handed out compensation to farmers. This time, the state government has not even surveyed the extent of damage. They have still not announced the list of taluks hit by drought-like situation. The government should do something to alleviate the farmers' distress. Many farmers have complained that they are experiencing load shedding."

Modi as third-time PM: BJP plans intense voter awareness campaign

ENS @ Bengaluru

UNION Minister of State for Agriculture Shobha Karandlaje here on Friday said BJP will launch 'Matadarara Chetana Mahabhiyana' (Voter Awareness Campaign) from September 1 till September 10 to create awareness among voters on the revision of the electoral list ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha polls.

"Voters have a lot of faith in the dynamic leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and BJP. That is why the NDA government has been brought to power in the last two Lok Sabha elections with absolute majority. Modi will once again lead the country by achieving a historic victory in the 2024 Lok Sabha elections," she said at the party office.

On September 17, party workers will do door-to-door campaigns to appeal to voters to get their names checked in the revised electoral list, she added. The party will also take up updating the registration of new voters and revision of the voter list in over 58,000 booths across the state.

A team including Bengaluru South MP Tejasvi Surya, MLA Arvind Bellad, former MLA P Rajeev, state executive committee member Vivek Reddy and leader Lokesh Bijawara will take up the campaign.

At the district and assembly constituency level, 'Shakti Kendras' will be created at party offices and a three-member committee formed to steer the campaign with the appointment of booth level agents. A workshop will also be organised for them, she said.

She said MPs, MLAs and office-bearers should be in constant touch with the booth level officers appointed by the Election Commission of India and register their complaints. Two BJP workers with technical expertise will be appointed at Shakti Kendras. Karandlaje alleged, "The Siddaramaiah government is collecting money from street vendors and small shop owners for guarantee schemes at Rs 15,000 per month. If this continues, shop owners will all leave Bengaluru." She claimed that a delegation of shop owners met her recently.

100 DAYS OF CONG GOVT

CM, DyCM working as rivals or in tandem?

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

THE Congress government led by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is set to complete 100 days in office on August 30, and has implemented four of five guarantees with some success, yet there are murmurs of a lack of coordination between Siddaramaiah and Deputy CM D K Shivakumar. It is being said that Shivakumar, who was aspiring for the CM's post, is posing tough competition to Siddaramaiah.

The CM and DyCM visited the ISRO facility separately to greet scientists on Chandrayaan-3's successful landing. While Shivakumar said the government was set to make a major announcement, Siddaramaiah announced that 500 scientists will be honoured at the Banquet Hall in Vidhana Soudha soon.

There were also allegations about Shivakumar intervening in other departments. He held review meetings with ministers Dr Sharan Prakash Patil and Madhu Bangarappa, which did not go down well within the party, with a few complaining to Siddaramaiah. According to sources, they felt that only the CM should have done that. Another instance is of Shivakumar holding a meeting in Mysuru, the hometown of Siddaramaiah, ahead of the launch of 'Gruha Lakshmi' guarantee on August 30 with Women and Child Welfare Minister Laxmi Hebbalkar. Political pundits are keenly watching the events, especially with senior leader Rahul Gandhi also invited for the launch.

"His intervention in Belagavi politics during the Congress-JDS alliance government resulted in its collapse, with Ramesh Jarkiholi taking the initiative to carry out Operation Lotus. Some of Siddaramaiah's supporters, including S T Somashekar, had joined Jarkiholi.

Despite these anomalies, ministers N Cheluvarayaswamy and B Nagendra have claimed that the CM and DyCM have been running the government in coordination. "There is no rivalry or competition between Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar, and the Congress government is successfully completing 100 days in office. Allegations of opposition parties are false as we are all working in tandem. Nobody breaks the CM's protocol," remarked Nagendra.

"Even before elections, the BJP and JDS were saying that all is not well between Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar, yet Congress won 135 seats. They are still thinking of coming to power, but we will remain together and work together," Cheluvarayaswamy stated.

Madras HC refuses to interfere with EPS's election as AIADMK GS

R SIVAKUMAR @Chennai

IN a political setback for O Panneerselvam, the Madras High Court on Friday refused to interfere with the election of Edappadi K Palaniswami as AIADMK general secretary and also upheld the expulsion of the former CM and his supporters from the party.

A division bench of Justices R Mahadevan and Justice Mohammed Shaffiq passed the order on appeals filed by OPS and his supporters R Vaithilingam, PH Manoj Pandian and JCD Prabhakar.

They had filed the appeals against a single judge's order rejecting their plea to stay the resolutions passed in the party's general council (GC) meeting held on July 11, 2022. The GC through various resolutions had abolished the posts of coordinator and joint coordinator, revived the general secretary post, and approved the appointment of EPS as interim AIADMK general secretary. It had also passed a special resolution to hold election for the general secretary post.

The bench said the Supreme Court on February, 23, 2023, had stated that convening of GC on July 11 is valid and the resolutions passed in the meeting may be the subject matter of trial in the suits.

Saying that grant of interim injunction would amount to granting the principal relief as prayed for in the suits themselves, which cannot be done while granting an interim injunction, the bench said, "Hence the order of the single judge rejecting the applications for injunction is affirmed."

It further said any injunction regarding validity of the resolutions would mean bringing back pre-July 11, 2022, situation where "the party would face a situation of being without leadership as there would be no general secretary. This also cannot be permitted."

Four retired IAS officers to survey status of Urdu schools

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

IN the last 15 years, the number of Government Urdu Schools in the state has come down from 5,000 to 4,000, as students are increasingly dropping out. Having learnt that around 50% of the students in government Urdu schools dropout by the time they reach class 10, four retired IAS officers and a KAS officer, along with 'Anjuman Taraqqi Urdu', an NGO, will be conducting a survey to study the status of Urdu schools, and submit recommendations to cover the gaps.

Former IAS officers Azizulla Baig, Adoni Saleem, Mir Aneesh Ahmed, Salauddin, and retired KAS officer MA Khalid have been tasked to complete the study and come out with a report.

President of Anjuman Taraqqi Urdu, Karnataka Chapter, Mohammed Obaidullah Sharief said, "The need for a survey was felt as many children from the minority community dropped out from schools, and the numbers further dwindled post Covid-19. The committee believes that some of the reasons for this dropout could be factored to poor infrastructure and a preconceived notion that Urdu schools lack quality education."

"Based on the findings of the survey, a report will be shared with the government to overcome the shortcomings," he added.

Sharief also said that to bring students back to Urdu schools, NGOs, Masjid Committees, and educated youngsters in the community are working to improve infrastructure, supply ration to poor families, and sponsor the students' books and uniforms among other things.

"According to our initial studies, about 15 lakh children from the community enroll into schools annually, but by the time they reach 7th standard, about 50% of them drop out," added Sharief.

Speaking to TNIE, committee member and retired IAS officer Adoni Saleem said, "We have taken up the pilot study in four revenue districts like Chikkaballapur, Bidar, Mysuru and Bengaluru Urban. In the report, the status of the Urdu schools, and socio-economic conditions of the students' families, including dropouts, will be documented among other things, and submitted to the Department of School Education."

ChaSTE MEASURING LUNAR THERMAL PROPERTIES

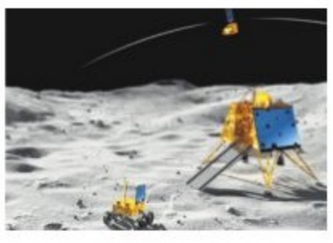
THE lander's second payload, Chandra's Surface Thermophysical Experiment (ChaSTE) is carrying out measurements of thermal properties of lunar surface near polar region, while the third payload Instrument for Lunar Seismic Activity (ILSA) is measuring seismicity around the landing site and delineating the structure of the lunar crust and mantle.

Meanwhile, a picture released by the official handle of the Chandrayaan 3 mission (LVM3-M4/Chandrayaan 3 Mission) has been doing the rounds wherein Chandrayaan 2's orbiter Pradhan took a picture of lander Vikram from the Moon's orbit. "I spy you! Chandrayaan 2 orbiter photoshoots Chandrayaan 3 Lander," the post read.

Onboard the orbiter, which has been circling the Moon for the past four years, is the Orbiter High Resolution Camera (OHRC) with the highest resolution among cameras on any of the orbiters currently operational around the Moon. The photograph shows a small lit object on the Moon, which is the lander Vikram gleaming in the sunlight on the lunar surface at the landing site.

The duration of the mission is one lunar day, which is 14 Earth days. The batteries in the lander and rover will be charged through solar power and will only last for 14 days as there will be no sun rays on the Moon from September 6 for the next 14 days. However, ISRO scientists hope to revive the lander and rover after September 20 when the next lunar sunrise occurs on the lunar south pole.



GOVERNOR HONOURS TEAM

Governor Thaawar Chand Gehlot visited the ISRO centre and felicitated Chairman S Somanath and other scientists. He congratulated the Chandrayaan 3 team for their relentless pursuit of advancing space exploration and research.

WELFARE SCHEMES: STATES SHOULD LOOK FOR NEW REVENUE STREAMS

IT looks like Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 'freebie culture' taunt on opposition-ruled states has barely had any impact. Most continue to invest heavily in welfare measures. A recent Crisil report says social welfare spending in 11 big states has hit a 10-year high of ₹4 lakh crore. According to the credit rating firm, social welfare spending refers to disbursements through direct transfers, cash incentives, and the distribution of personal or household goods, excluding expenditures for education, agriculture, public health, and such, which are budgeted separately.

Several state governments have raised their spending on social welfare and public health post-pandemic for apparent reasons. For instance, in Tamil Nadu, where social welfare schemes are said to be a hallmark of Dravidian politics, the DMK-led government has launched a cash transfer programme called 'Magalir Urimai Thogai' to provide ₹1,000 per month to women in eligible households. The government hopes to help nearly one crore women in TN with the monthly aid. The government has also expanded the breakfast scheme across the state to ensure no child attends school hungry.

While such schemes are indeed helping the people from the bottom of the pyramid, some state governments are reeling under a big pile of debt. Tamil Nadu has the highest outstanding debt among all states and union territories. As per budget estimates for 2022–23, it stands at ₹7.54 lakh crore, followed by UP at ₹7.10 lakh crore, according to the Union finance minister.

On the flip side, there is some startling data. The total debt accumulated by state governments and UTs has reached a record high during the last financial year, with states like TN, UP, Maharashtra, and West Bengal, among others, going on a fund-raising spree. TN saw its debt increase to ₹7,53,860 crore during 2022–23 (budget estimate), compared to ₹6,56,626 crore (revised estimate) during the previous financial year. UP's debt rose to ₹7,10,210 crore in 2022–23. Some state governments are already struggling to wriggle out of the debt trap. What is alarming is that the expenditure towards salaries, pensions, and interest payments, which currently account for 45–47% of revenue expenditure, is growing fast. So, it is essential that states generate additional revenues, attract private capital, and boost capital expenditure. Failing to do so, they will end up in a debt trap.

As the face-off with Russia over Ukraine dominated NATO's plans, its eastern border (the Baltic states and Poland) acquired added military importance

EUROPE MOVING EAST, NEW ALIGNMENTS AND PRIORITIES POSSIBLE

PS RAGHAVAN
Distinguished Fellow, Vivekananda International Foundation & former diplomat

RECENT interactions with strategic communities in Europe brought into focus how different the world looks from their vantage points and how geography – in its broader definition of location, physical features, natural resources, historical experiences and cultural heritage – strongly influences how nations behave.

Poland offers a striking illustration of this reality. Its historical memories include its political and cultural dominance over large swathes of Eastern Europe in the 16th and 17th centuries, including Ukraine, Belarus and almost all the modern-day Baltic states, as well as parts of Russia. There was subsequent humiliation when the country was partitioned between Austria, Prussia and Russia. It regained independence after the First World War but was again the victim of a bargain between great powers after the Second World War, when the country was literally shifted westward, losing territory in the east (some of it is today western Ukraine) and gaining some in the west. During the Cold War, membership in the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact and a communist political system could not dilute the influence of the Roman Catholic Church in the country, which sent a Pope to the Vatican in 1978.

Post-Cold War Poland's desire to find politico-economic sanctuary in the European Union and a security cover within NATO flowed directly from these experiences. It resonated with the European Union's efforts to expand its European footprint. It also tied in with the US objective of folding the newly liberated Central European countries into NATO to forestall the prospect of European integration diluting American influence in the continent. Poland was admitted into NATO in 1999 and into the EU in 2004.

Almost immediately after it acceded to the EU, Poland sought to draw its eastern neighbourhood into the EU and into NATO. The Poland-sponsored Eastern Partnership (EaP) sought to strengthen the EU's partnership with Ukraine and Belarus (along with other post-Soviet states), preparing them for EU membership. It was Poland again, encouraged by the US, that got NATO to endorse Ukraine's claim for membership – a decision that is at the heart of the Russia-Ukraine war today.

It is, therefore, natural that Poland extends strong military and intelligence support to Ukraine in its resistance against Russia, including lobbying the US and EU policy-making establishments to sustain military and diplomatic support for Ukraine. Poland has received a steady flow of Ukrainian refugees; about 1.6 million remain in the country and are extended facilities for living and working on par with Polish nationals.

SOUMYADIP SINHA

In the process, Poland has emerged as a major diplomatic and military force within NATO. Its steadfast support for the US, even when other alliance members wavered (as in the Iraq war in 2003), consolidated its position in the alliance. When the US withdrew from the Intermediate-range Nuclear Forces (INF) Treaty with Russia, some EU leaders publicly demurred, citing negative consequences for European security. Poland was a notable exception: its President welcomed the decision and offered to host US missiles on Polish soil.

As the face-off with Russia over Ukraine dominated NATO's plans, its eastern border (the Baltic states and Poland) acquired added military importance. It was, therefore, logical from an American perspective to shift NATO's military resources to a country that demonstrated firmness of resolve to deter Russia and which would bear more of the financial and logistical burden for it. From 2019 onwards, thousands of US troops have been redeployed from Germany and elsewhere to Poland. There is now a formal US military base in Poland and over a hundred military infrastructure projects for joint training and rapid deployment of NATO forces in the event of a crisis.

Poland's defence expenditure has climbed steeply, from under 2% of GDP in 2014 to 4% in 2022, and is projected to rise to 5%. The bulk of its acquisitions are new weapons systems from the US. It has been said that if it follows through with its plans, Poland would become a military superpower in Europe, displacing the NATO "Quad" of the UK, Germany, France and Italy.

Alongside its efforts to bolster military deterrence vis a vis Russia, Poland has supported the US's appeal to Europe to wean itself away from dependence on Russian energy sources – oil, gas and coal. Before the Western sanctions on Russian energy, the EU got over 60% of its energy needs from Russia. The argument that this dependence gives Russia a geopolitical weapon became increasingly vehement as Russia-West hostilities worsened.

This geopolitical argument dovetailed neatly with economic interests. Poland effectively spearheaded the "Three Seas Initiative", by which twelve European countries located on the Baltic, Black and Adriatic Seas plotted to create a new European hub for energy distribution through a network of LNG import terminals. President Donald Trump endorsed this initiative since it would promote US exports. Poland's LNG imports grew to nearly half of its gas imports last year, while Russian pipeline gas dropped to one-fifth of imports. The US was the source of more than half of the LNG imports.

Even as many of Europe's economies suffer from the consequences of the Ukraine conflict, the Polish economy is chugging along nicely. Poland is projected to be the fastest-growing among the larger European economies in 2024. It may grow by 2.7%, while Europe's "Big 4" – Germany, the UK, France and Italy – will languish at 1% or above.

There are some wrinkles in this canvas. The European Commission is at odds with Poland on alleged erosion of democratic norms and violation of its European accession commitments. Poland protects its sovereign rights and reminds Europe of its contribution to European security.

But the big story is of a discernible eastward shift in Europe's military, energy and economic centre of gravity, which may reshape alignments within the continent and outside. Its course will depend on the outcome of the ongoing conflict and the response of those disadvantaged by the shift.

CONTROL INTEREST RATES TO CHECK ₹ VOLATILITY

The Indian currency is on the edge yet again. After appreciating for most of 2023, the rupee began depreciating this month, slipping below the psychological level of 83 against the US dollar. On Friday, it fell ahead of the Jackson Hole symposium, where the US Federal Reserve Chairman will likely maintain a hawkish tone, extending further gains for the greenback. As it is, the domestic unit has been bogged down by a strong dollar, persistent foreign capital outflows, rising global crude oil prices and inflation. The dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, inched up to 104 – the highest since June 8, and the RBI, which has been intervening in the market selling dollars to prevent further slide, appears ready to act with its $600-odd billion forex reserves in tow.

So far, the government is unfazed by the rupee movement, terming exchange rate volatility as nothing abnormal and is keeping its faith in the RBI to counter the currency rout. Earlier this month, the rupee hit an all-time intra-day low of 83.16, the lowest since October 20, 2022, when it touched 83.29. But that's the fate shared by most Asian currencies, and traders are mentally preparing themselves to withstand an INR level of 86. The widening gap between US-India interest rates offers meatier returns on dollar assets than emerging markets, and predictably, companies are gravitating towards advanced economies. As demand for dollars increases, the value of the rupee depreciates, a prospect an import-dependent country like India would prefer to avoid as it leads to high raw material costs and production costs for domestic companies. While weakening currency boosts exports, exporters are not enthused given the subdued global demand.

As an RBI-appointed committee noted last month that the rupee has the potential to become an international currency, and higher usage in invoicing and settlement of international trade and capital account transactions will give the domestic unit a progressively international presence. But the committee also warned that the rupee's internationalisation might lead to potentially increased volatility and accentuate an external shock, given the open channel of the flow of funds into and out of the country and from one currency to another. Efforts should be made to strengthen the rupee's value against the dollar steadily and control interest rates to prevent volatility.

QUICK TAKE

DIVORCE FROM FREEEDOM

Granting divorce to an estranged couple recently, the Delhi High Court made three observations. One is that it's not a "desirable culture" for a Hindu son in India to get separated from his parents upon getting married at the wife's instance. Two, "normally, no husband would tolerate" separation from his parents. Third, the wife is normally "expected" to be a part of the husband's family after marriage. Divorce is the couple's choice by right. But it's strange to recall archaic marriage customs already under challenge from modern laws backing women's deliverance from patriarchy. Such iteration internalises how practices restrict women's choices after marriage.

RIGHT TO EXPLANATION: INDIA'S NEED FOR FAIR AI

DR IVNEET KAUR WALIA
Associate Professor of Law, Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law, Patiala

KARTIKEY SINGH
Fourth-year student at RGNUL

"ARTIFICIAL Intelligence (AI) has the potential to perpetuate and amplify discrimination," remarked the Chief Justice of India recently while speaking at the 60th convocation of IIT Madras. AI uses algorithms that can affect or significantly manipulate human decisions vis-à-vis education, employment, credit, health insurance, etc. These machines lacking Artificial General Intelligence (similar to human common sense) make algorithmic decision-making opaque, complex, and subject to bias, error, and discrimination.

The provision of the "right to explanation" as outlined in the European Union's (EU) data protection law, i.e., the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), provides a panacea to this by governing 'decision-making' by complex algorithms used by AI. Despite being the most populous country, India lacks AI regulations for emerging societal challenges, politics, data privacy, crime, and welfare.

Global research indicates biases in data-driven systems. A recent European Union Agency for Fundamental Rights research report highlighted ethnic and gender biases in AI's offensive and hate speech detection. The findings show that the social media posts by a certain religious community were disproportionately flagged and taken down as 'potentially offensive' compared to others. More asymmetric AI behaviours have been reported, such as camera-based face recognition systems being more error-free on fair-skinned persons than on dark-skinned persons. Further, in his article for the Washington Post, Justin Jouvenal discusses "Predictive Policing" utilising a crime prognostication system PredPol. The author shows that the system is biased against minorities while predicting crimes. Another major worry with AI's dominance is automated decision-making (without human involvement) and profiling.

Individual automated decision-making has a significant influence in various sectors, for instance, a recruitment aptitude test using programmed algorithms and a set of criteria, an online decision to award a loan, etc. However, these automated decisions need checking due to algorithm bias that affects the fundamental rights of specific sections of people.

Secondly, according to Article 4(4) of GDPR, profiling is the processing of personal data to analyse a person's performance, economic status, health, preference, behaviour, etc. Organisations might collect personal information from internet searches, lifestyle and behaviour data, buying habits, etc. and use algorithms or machine learning to classify people into different groups or sectors. Again, this involves using algorithms and machine learning, which can be biased.

The key difference between a decision taken by a human alone and a decision assisted by an AI is in the case of humans, the person affected by the decision can seek an explanation from the decision-maker. However, AI-involved decisions need more explanation and accountability.

The EU's GDPR establishes a comprehensive and robust algorithmic accountability regime, recognising the risks posed by biased AI algorithms. It provides a "right to explanation", as in 'Recital 71' by providing interpretative guidance on rights related to automated decision-making. Specifically, Articles 13 and 14 of the GDPR provide individuals with the "right to be informed" of- the existence of solely automated decision-making, meaningful information on the rationale involved and the significance and consequences for the individuals. This primarily restricts the use of solely automated decision-making (without any human involvement) and profiling.

...these automated decisions need checking due to algorithm bias that affects the fundamental rights of specific sections of people

Simultaneously, it also ensures that a person can obtain human involvement, express their opinion, get an explanation of the decision and challenge it, ensuring transparency and accountability. For instance, a person applies for a loan from a bank, only to be rejected by an automated algorithm, leaving one unaware of the decision's rationales. The "right to explanation" provision changes this. It lets a person demand an explanation for clarity, allowing us to protect our rights actively. Moreover, providing 'process-based' explanations will help the public to have a fruitful discussion about AI and its associated risks and benefits. They will ensure the use of AI as human-centric by continuously improving AI with customer feedback.

The provision of the "right to explanation" has been labelled by some as 'impractical' and a harmful restriction on the advancement of AI. However, this mischaracterisation overlooks the socio-political framework where it works, first, about the concerns of explaining the highly technical algorithms. As a first step, it can enhance the general understanding of the functioning of intricate socio-technical systems such as bank lending practice and credit management. An explanation can be a means to an end that a governance system pursues and enables the receipts to exercise their legal rights. It can give a customer the details to identify that they have been wronged and can successfully appeal a decision.

Second, technological advancement should never undermine the welfare and fundamental rights of the people. For instance, recently, the latest technology introduced in MGNREGS resulted in many beneficiaries being struck out in this process unfairly. The new mandatory requirement of Aadhaar leads to work denial and payment delays. This adversely affects the right to livelihood and social security of these individuals.

Third, algorithmic bias arises from learning from the data collected from the world, which pins towards human intervention despite automation. Furthermore, private entities import or manufacture many of these systems, rendering them vulnerable to unauthorised access and storage. As these machines are also vulnerable to cyber-attacks, we cannot be sure about the decision, which may be a manipulated calculation. This further underscores the need to focus on 'process explanation' rather than 'product explanation'.

Apropos 'Pragg still a Baku-Bali' (Aug 25). Teenage Indian chess sensation Praggnanandhaa might have faltered at the final hurdle while losing against World No 1, Magnus Carlsen, but this World Championship has been memorable for him as he scalped both World No 2 Nakamura and World No 3 Caruana en route to the final.

Questionable record

Apropos 'India treads cautiously on BRICS affairs' (Aug 25). The BRICS has been in existence for 20 years. Russia and China are the two components of BRICS constantly posing global problems. As there is hardly any major achievement for the BRICS to boast of since the last two decades, it would be a question mark whether there would be any tangible result(s) if six more countries with divergent past are added to it. Look at the UN, a glorified outfit unable to deliver justice to needy countries in time.

The historic success of ISRO in Chandrayaan-3 mission has been hailed all over the world. Unfortunately, as the adage goes, success has many fathers and both Congress and BJP claim credit for the spectacular progress of the space science in India. The claims and counter claims are jarring. Let our leaders desist from politicising the national achievements.

Contempt case

The Kerala High Court did well in initiating suo motu contempt case against the CPM Idukki district secretary for going ahead with the construction of a building for his party's office in violation of the court's order to stop (Aug 25). Summit is an in-person event unless exception announced; Sergey Lavrov will attend meet

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

RUSSIAN President Vladimir Putin would not travel to Delhi to attend the G20 Summit, Kremlin announced on Friday putting all speculation to rest.

"President Putin is not planning a trip to the G20 Summit in India. His main emphasis is now a special military operation," President Putin's spokesperson Dmitry Peskov.

As of now, the G20 Summit will be totally an in-person event, and no hybrid facility is open for people who do not attend in person. Unless there is an exception provided for President Putin to attend the summit virtually — if it happens it will be a last minute announcement — Russia's Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov will attend the summit on Putin's behalf.

At present a few country leaders — US, Australia, Italy, Canada and South Korea — have confirmed their in-person participation. While Australian Prime Minister Anthony Albanese was the first to confirm his participation, US President Joe Biden's confirmation came just two days ago.

Since India is not a signatory of the International Criminal Court (ICC), President Putin would not have been arrested on his arrival and therefore that is not the reason for him to decide against visiting Delhi.

However, after the brief Wagner coup and the recent death of Wagner's chief Yevgeny Prigozhin in an aircrash, there is a lot Putin needs to handle on the home turf.

"The speculation on President Putin being behind the ill-fated aircrash is baseless. These are all total lies," Peskov said, adding that Putin had said that all necessary evaluations will be conducted including DNA tests of passengers on board.

Meanwhile, Canadian PM Justin Trudeau, during a telephonic conversation with Ukrainian President Voldomyr Zelenskyy, said that he was disappointed that Zelenskyy was excluded from the list of invitees for the summit in Delhi.

Russia, in the meantime, will have a busy year ahead as it has just taken over as the chair of the BRICS group and will host the next summit in Kazan next year.

With six additional countries that will become full-time members in January 2024, there is a lot that Russia would do to make the 16th BRICS Summit a success, a source added.

G20 culture working group resolves issues

PARVEZ SULTAN @Varanasi

ISSUES raised by the members in the last three meetings of the Culture Working Group (CWG) of G20 countries under India's presidency have been ironed out. A joint declaration acceptable to all members is likely to be issued on Saturday after the cultural ministers meeting in Varanasi, said Govind Mohan, secretary of culture ministry.

"It has been a remarkable journey of securing consensus on all issues, on which different countries had different views. The message of the culture working group is that 'culture unites all'. This is being observed in letter and spirit by all the 29 countries. We have managed to achieve consensus at the official level. We are hopeful there would be similar consensus at the ministerial level," said Govind.

He, however, refused to reveal further details.

"Except for the geopolitical issue related to Russia, a declaration on all cultural issues would be passed unanimously on Saturday," added Mohan.

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA and Greece have raised their bilateral relations to a 'Strategic Partnership'. This was announced during Prime Minister Narendra Modi's first visit to Greece on Friday, when he was also conferred the 'Grand Cross of the Order of Honour' by President Katerina N Sakellaropoulou.

Bills on criminal laws: Sanskrit titles written in English, panel told

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

FACING Opposition from MPs over the names of the three Bills that are set to replace the existing criminal laws, home secretary Ajay Bhalla is believed to have informed the parliamentary panel that titles are in Sanskrit but written in English, hence not violative of Article 348.

According to sources, the second day of the meeting of the standing committee on Friday saw protests from Opposition members about the next meeting scheduled for September 11 and 12. DMK MP Dayanidhi Maran raised several concerns, including the Hindi titles of the Bills, and asserted that the titles are violative of Article 348 that mandates use of English for all Bills and amendments, sources said.

"The title of the Bill is in Hindi, which is violative of Article 348. We are not opposed to Hindi. But if these Bills turn into Acts, the people in non-Hindi speaking states will find it difficult to pronounce and handle these Acts," Maran is believed to have said.

Dayanidhi Maran, DMK MP

Bhalla informed panel that the new titles are in Sanskrit and written in English, hence it is not violative of Article 348 and can be read by all. Maran noted that Sanskrit is used by only 21,000 people in India.

As the chairman of the committee and BJP Rajya Sabha MP Brijlal retires on September 12, there is a possibility of the constitution of a new committee, according to a source.

The meeting also saw dissenting voices when members were asked to submit their report on the Bills in 15 days. The chairman allowed flexibility when the members protested the 'short notice' given to review overhaul of the key Bills. Earlier, the committee was given three months to submit its report.

The committee began its three-day meeting on Wednesday to examine the three Bills — Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita Bill, 2023, Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita Bill, 2023 and Bharatiya Sakhshya Bill, 2023.

Hate speech: SC seeks list of nodal officers from govt

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

EXPRESSING its inclination to strengthen the guidelines dealing with mob violence, hate speeches and lynching passed in 2018, the Supreme Court on Friday directed the Ministry of Home Affairs to file a report giving details of the appointment of nodal officers by the state to deal with hate speech.

In the 2018 verdict, the top court issued a slew of directions to states and UTs to take preventive and remedial measures such as the appointment of nodal officers in each district to keep a tab on the provocative activities.

"We want effective practical steps to be taken in letter and spirit of the order. Law is clear; it's the implementation and understanding in a particular situation is the issue," said a bench of Justices Sanjiv Khanna and SVN Bhatti. It said the 2018 guidelines were fairly elaborate.

The court, while also hearing a batch of pleas seeking to regulate the menace of hate speech, directed the Centre to collate details from the states regarding its compliance within three weeks.

"Sensitisation of police officers is needed and police academies will have a big role to play," said the court while proposing the installation of CCTV cameras which can act as a deterrent and deployment of police personnel in plainclothes to record everything.

Advocating maintenance of peace, harmony, and brotherhood, the bench said, "These nodal officers shall maintain a record and, if the complaints increase to say four to five times, irrespective of the community, the officer can place the report before a committee and subsequently direct the SHO to register the case in accordance with law.'

"Hate speech, whether it is from one side or the other, will be treated alike and dealt with under the law. There has to be some sort of harmony and comity between all communities," a bench of Justices Sanjiv Khanna and SVN Bhati had said on August 11 proposing to form a committee that can be assigned the task of checking the authenticity and issue directions to the SHOs.

Advocate Nizam Pasha, appearing for petitioner Shaheen Abdullah, said while hearing his plea on October 21, 2022, the top court had directed police officers to take suo motu cognisance of hate speeches and register cases but the order is not being followed strictly.

Senior advocate Sanjay Parikh, appearing for Maharashtra chapter of NGO People's Union of Civil Liberties, said they have filed suggestions on dealing with hate crimes.

Top court for response on transgender reservation

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday issued notices to the Central government, state governments and Union Territories, seeking their response with regard to a plea that sought reservation for transgender persons in education and employment.

A bench comprising Chief Justice DY Chandrachud, Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Mishra was considering a plea filed by one Subi KC, a transgender person from Kerala.

Drawing the court's attention to a joint report by the National Aids Control Organisation and United Nations Development Programme, the plea stated that transgender persons are entitled to reservation under Article 16 (equality of opportunity in matters of public employment) of the Constitution.

The report indicated that insufficient training and employment skill programmes for transgender individuals have resulted in a significant lack of employment opportunities for this marginalised group.

ISRO scientists deserve better pay: Nair

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

EXTREMELY happy at the successful landing of Chandrayaan-3, former chairman, Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) Madhavan Nair congratulated ISRO at its "remarkable achievement" and said that scientists in India deserve "better" in terms of recognition and remuneration. "I compliment team ISRO for their persistent efforts despite the Chandrayaan-2 setback. Chandrayaan-3 achieved what no other country could. Russia, with their vast and decades of experience in space, failed," he said.

Speaking about Chandrayaan-3, Nair said that "for the first time we have our own spacecraft on the lunar south pole. We had announced the date of its launch and landing two months in advance and things progressed with absolute precision. The last 30 minutes of the Lander Vikram's descent to the surface of the Moon, which was hitherto an unchartered territory, were mind boggling. Its autonomous landing was simply fantastic and the entire global space community is proud of ISRO," said Nair, sounding like a proud parent of a child, who has etched a mark in history.

ISRO scientists forget about their family life and are on the job 24x7. They have a passion for making personal sacrifices to achieve a goal. The government should recognise their efforts through improved remuneration and awards.

Madhavan Nair, former ISRO chairman

Nair said that ISRO has an impeccable track record of long term strategy and planning. "They have a systematic development programme. They build one module on the other, which reduces the incremental costs. The tracking network of Chandrayaan-1 is still active. Several technological developments for Chandrayaan-1 and 2 were adopted for Chandrayaan-3. ISRO uses home grown technology," he added.

Nair, however, lamented at the "low" salaries of ISRO scientists. "They don't clamour for higher remuneration. Instead, they look for technical challenges and are known to achieve great milestones at low cost. ISRO scientists forget about their family life and are on the job 24x7. They have a passion for making personal sacrifices to achieve a goal. The government should recognise their efforts through improved remuneration and awards. The last pay commission did hike the salaries but it was not adequate," said Nair. He added that the remuneration of space scientists in the West is around 10 times more than their Indian counterparts. "That is the gap. I am not looking at doubling the wages as the benchmark because our economic conditions are different from the West. More than the monetary remuneration, the government should recognise scientists on national and international forums. In the last few years no scientist has figured in the Padma awards list. I was awarded Padma Vibhushan in 2009 after Chandrayaan-1. There should be similar recognitions for other space scientists," said Nair. Former ISRO scientist and project director, Chandrayaan 1 & 2, M Annadurai was conferred the Padma Shri in 2016.

Nair added that collaboration with foreign space agencies should be encouraged and exhorted the Indian industry to come forward and invest in space by way of human resources and funding to expand space commerce. "Space has vast opportunities not only in terms of scientific explorations, climate change but for civil and defence applications as well," added Nair.

Atmanirbhar push: Four fast patrol vessels to be built for Coast Guard

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AS part of its efforts to augment coastal security of the country, defence secretary Giridhar Aramane laid the keel of four Fast Patrol vessels (FPVs) of the Indian Coast Guard at the Goa Shipyard Limited (GSL) on Friday.

"The FPV designed by GSL is a medium-range weapon-fitted surface vessel with a length of 51.43 metres and breadth of 8 metres. The ship is propelled with a twin-engine and has a maximum speed of 27 knots. Displacement of the vessel is approximately 320 tonnes, and it is capable of operating in rough sea conditions," the Ministry of Defence (MoD) said in a statement.

"These vessels for the Indian Coast Guard are based on Goa Shipyard's in-house design. They will be fitted with the most modern and technologically advanced machinery and computerised control systems, making them the state-of-the-art Fast Patrol Vessels of the Coast Guard," MoD added.

Speaking after laying the keel, the defence secretary applauded the efforts of Goa Shipyard, especially the scale of indigenisation. He emphasised the importance of nurturing and developing the country's shipbuilding industry, which has had a rich legacy.

Notably, a larger number of ships and craft of the coast guard have been manufactured indigenously. The coast guard, guided by its 'Vision 2025', is moving ahead with having a fleet of about 200 ships and 100 aircraft.

In view of India's vast coastline, the coast guard plays a significant role. India has a 7,516.6 kilometre long coastline, which includes 5,422 kilometres in the mainland and 2,094 kilometres of islands.

The defence secretary also inaugurated the GSL Integrated Stores Complex on Friday.

Raging battle within BJP takes verse form in Rajkot

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

> There is a policy of 'my people, your people' in the distribution of posts (within the BJP). The unworthy have got positions while the deserving have been marginalised
>
> Viral verse

MURMURS of discontent refuse to abate in Gujarat BJP. At a time when some party leaders claimed that the dust over the Jamnagar episode tied to the mayor, MP, and MLA has settled, another controversy has erupted involving Vipul Patel, the chairman of Amul and former president of the Kheda district BJP. Then, there is a viral 'verse' from Rajkot that targets the party's working system.

The preface to the latest episode began on Thursday with a new hi-tech machine being installed in a cancer hospital in Karamsad, Gujarat's Anand district, in the presence of social and political officials.

In his speech, Amul Dairy chairman Vipul Patel said: "Not all are well-wishers; some want our good, some don't, and there are those who pull our leg. When I became chairman of Kheda Madhyasth Bank, leaders, my friends, and my BJP people got scared."

Patel then spoke about the efforts being made to bring him down in his party, and quoted a poem. "Na mai gira na meri ummido ki minare giri lakin kuch log mujhe girane ke chhakar mein baar-baar gire (neither did I fall nor my hopes fell, but some people fell again and again in trying to make me fall)."

When this newspaper asked him more about it, he turned around to say: "I said this about my family, not for the party." As Patel took a dig at the "leg-pulling" going on in the party, a poem went viral in Rajkot. It is claimed that a BJP worker wrote it.

'All don't wish well'

In a dig at BJP, Vipul Patel, the chairman of Amul and former president of the Kheda district BJP said, "Not all are well-wishers; some want our good, some don't, and there are those who pull our leg."

The poem takes a swipe at the BJP, stating that "There is a policy of 'my people, your people' in the distribution of posts. The unworthy have got positions while the deserving have been marginalized."

Party stalwarts like Syama Prasad Mukherjee and Deendayal Upadhyaya are also referenced in the poem, and it is implied that there must have been "some flaw in the constitution of the party they founded that resulted in these circumstances."

After Patel's poem went viral, Rajkot BJP chief Mukesh Doshi said, "It appears that the feelings of some party workers are hurt. There are lakhs of BJP party workers in the state, not everyone gets benefits in the process of allocation of posts."

Pawar shuts door for Ajit in NCP, sparks speculation

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

> Some people took different decisions, which cannot be called a split and separation in the party. The split will happen when a majority within the party gets separated at the national level
>
> Sharad Pawar

MAHARASHTRA'S political scene heated up on Friday as Sharad Pawar took a U turn saying he never said Ajit Pawar was the NCP leader and that the party had split. He also indicated his inclination to close the door to Ajit Pawar for his re-entry into the NCP.

The Opposition in Maharashtra and the ruling BJP decoded Sharad Pawar's statement in their own convenient way. The BJP said Sharad Pawar will soon join the NDA, therefore he made the statement, while the Opposition argued that the senior Pawar was confusing the BJP.

State Congress chief Nana Patole said Deputy Chief Minister Ajit Pawar could have wanted to return to the party after meeting his uncle.

"Sharad Pawar appears to have succeeded in changing Ajit Pawar's mind. There is no confusion in Congress and the Uddhav-led Shiv Sena about Sharad Pawar. We firmly stand behind Sharad Pawar. It is for them to decide what is going on in the NCP and what steps they should take," Nana said.

However, state BJP chief Chandrashekhar Bawankule said Sharad Pawar believes in development politics and soon he would join the NDA. He said the BJP will win the 2024 Lok Sabha polls, so everyone, including Sharad Pawar wants to be part of it.

Earlier in the day, Pawar recalled the

When asked about his statements earlier in the day calling Ajit the party leader, Pawar said he never called his nephew the party leader.

Earlier in Baramati, Sharad Pawar said there was no split in his party. "Some people took different decisions which cannot be called a split and separation in the party. The split will happen when a majority within the party gets separated at the national level. Here, there is no such split at the national level. Some people have taken a different stand that cannot be called the split. In a democracy, they have a right to make such decisions," Pawar said.

In less than two months after its founding, the INDIA alliance is all set to convene its third all-party meet in the country's financial capital. The 26-party strong opposition tie-up will welcome two more Opposition parties into its fold. Each meeting aimed at opposition unity has progressed with substantial development. Now, in the third meeting, the hosts are awaiting confirmations of the two new entrants.

Cong top order to remain intact till Lok Sabha poll

The talk of change of guard in Maharashtra Congress seems to have finally settled. There was buzz that incumbent state party chief Nana Patole will be replaced by either former chief minister Ashok Chavan or Congress Legislative Party leader Balasaheb Thorat. Now, the party has decided to put on hold any new election within it when the 2024 Lok Sabha elections are just months away. It has decided to fight the elections collectively rather than betting on the stewardship of one person. The party will now empower multiple state-level leaders to begin electioneering.

Chavan-Fadnavis duel due in Pune for '24?

All prominent state politicians and leaders are likely to enter the fray in the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. The BJP is contemplating Deputy CM Devendra Fadnavis as the candidate for the Pune seat while Congress is mulling over former chief minister Prithviraj Chavan's name for the constituency. While the BJP mulls over the brahmin dynamic of Pune city and its chances for Fadnavis (a Brahmin), the local Congress cadre is confident of Chavan's well-qualified, honest and sober persona. The party is still fresh off the triumph of MLA Ravindra Dhangekar – who trounced the BJP to end its 28-year-old run in the Kasba Peth Assembly constituency, a Pune suburb.

1st hydrogen fuel facility to come up in J'khand

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

ADDING one more feather to its cap, Jharkhand is all set to get the country's first hydrogen fuel related industry in Jamshedpur. An MoU was signed between Jharkhand Government and TCPL Green Energy Solutions Pvt. Ltd (TGESPL) in presence of Chief Minister Hemant Soren at Project Bhawan in Ranchi on Friday.

As per the MoU, country's first hydrogen fuel industry will be set up in Jamshedpur. Hydrogen has more capacity than other fuels as its energy level is very high besides being cheap and light, therefore, it can be considered a better option between petrol and diesel. Moreover, Hydrogen fuel can also help in controlling pollution to a great extent.

Calling it a historic day, the CM said that the state has taken a foot forward towards implementation of the concept of clean energy. Wondering why Jharkhand is called a backward state, Soren said that he is looking for ways to get Jharkhand out of this backwardness.

"This is first foot forward by Tata Motors, Tata Cummings and Jharkhand government, where vehicles will be manufactured which will run on hydrogen," the CM said

Guv seeks ISRO chief help to stop ragging in Jadavpur varsity

PRONAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

IN a unique request, West Bengal Governor C V Ananda Bose on Friday urged the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) Chairman S Somanath to develop a technology to contain the menace of ragging in college campuses.

"They are trying to develop an appropriate technology solution using multiple sources such as video analysis, image matching, automatic target recognition and remote sensing. The JU VC has been authorised to take the matter forward," a note by Raj Bhavan said.

VC to take up the matter

A note by Raj Bhavan said "ISRO is trying to develop technology solution using multiple sources such. The JU VC has been authorised to take the matter forward."

On August 9, a 17-year-old first-year undergraduate student at Jadavpur University died after falling from the main hostel building. The student's family has been alleging that their son was being ragged by his seniors.

The student's death has triggered a political slugfest between the ruling All India Trinamool Congress (TMC) and the principal opposition Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP). The ruling party is asking the Governor to take responsibility for the incident as he is the Chancellor of the university. The TMC is also attacking the Communist Party of India (Marxist) as the latter's youth wing has been ruling the university.

On the other hand, the saffron camp is accusing the state government of not being vigilant over the activities in the university campuses.

A total of 13 people, comprising both former and present students of the university, have been arrested over the victim's complaint. The University Grants Commission (UGC) expressed its unhappiness after the JU authorities replied to the inquiry made by the statutory body.

The BJP's youth wing and students' arm took out processions on Friday in Jadavpur demanding a bar on outsiders' entry into the campus of the university.

Punjab may get President's rule, Guv warns CM

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

PUNJAB Governor Banwarilal Purohit on Friday warned Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann that he would recommend President's rule in the state and initiate criminal proceedings if his letters remain unanswered.

The Governor said his earlier letters to Mann about the breakdown of law and order and drug trade in the state, asking if the state government had taken any action, have remained unanswered till now.

"It appears that you are deliberately refusing to give the information asked for by me," the Governor said in a letter to Mann, which was shared with the media.

Purohit pointed out that the drug problem is so severe in the state that villagers are on the street protesting and forming their own defence committees.

A new trend has emerged where drugs are sold from government-controlled liquor vend, he alleged.

The Narcotics Control Bureau and the police have sealed 66 liquor vends in Ludhiana alone for selling drugs.

Lifer Amarmani gets sentence remission, walks out of UP jail

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow/New Delhi

WITH former UP minister Amarmani Tripathi and his wife, serving life terms in the 2003 Madhumita Shukla murder case, being prematurely released from jail on Friday, the victim's sister, Nidhi Shukla, said she feared for her as well as her family members' lives.

The UP prisons department directed their release, citing the state's 2018 remission policy and a Supreme Court order that a lifer is eligible for remission after completing 16 years of imprisonment.

Nidhi moved the SC against the decision, arguing that the couple misled the authorities for their premature release. But a bench of justices Aniruddha Bose and Bela M Trivedi refused to stay the release. It, however, issued notices to the state government, Tripathi and his wife seeking their replies within eight weeks.

"I have been telling everyone that this is going to happen. I have procured the documents through an RTI, which clearly state that 62% of the jail term that the two are said to have served had been spent out of jail," Nidhi said.

Shot in cold blood

Madhumita was shot dead on May 9, 2003, in Paper Mill Colony, Lucknow. She was pregnant at the time of the murder. Amarmani, then a BSP MLA and minister in the Mayawati government, was arrested in September 2003 for killing her. Later, his wife was arrested as the main conspirator

"I submitted documents to all responsible persons telling them that between 2012 and 2023 he was not in jail. The government documents, which I have got through the state information commission after a long fight, bear this out," Nidhi told PTI. The couple was lodged in Gorakhpur jail, but admitted in BRD Medical College, citing poor health. In its release order, the prison cited their old age and good behaviour.

A serial party hopper, Amarmani was a powerful minister in UP's BJP government in 2001 and in the BSP government in 2002. He was also with the Samajwadi Party.

Meet Tio, BSF 'soldier' who sniffed out victims from under Mizoram rly bridge

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

A "soldier" of the Border Security Force (BSF) helped rescue at the under-construction railway bridge collapse site in Mizoram, literally sniffing out those buried under tons of debris. A Tracker as they call him, this is Tio, a BSF Labrador, who has now been rewarded for his service.

The canine, attached to BSF's 38th Battalion, has been granted an "Appreciation Card". The BSF also rewarded him with ₹2,000 and officially recognized his service.

Tio helped locate the bodies of five victims who were among 23 workers killed after a girder (a steel structure on which track is laid) of the under-construction bridge collapsed at Sairang in Mizoram on August 23. The bodies of 18 workers were retrieved in no time but there was no trace of five persons. Tio located the bodies of four of them on August 24. He tracked down the body of the last person on Friday.

When a team of the BSF rushed to the site for the rescue operation, it learnt about five persons who were missing.

"Tio was utilized during the search and rescue operation from August 23-25. He did exceedingly well in searching the dead bodies of labourers buried under the debris. We are proud of him," a BSF official told this newspaper requesting not to be named.

He said Tio worked relentlessly for three days and it would have been difficult without him to locate the bodies.

"He is a soldier, for we consider the dogs in our units as soldiers. He did what others could not. We will buy toys for him. He will be able to feel that he has been rewarded," the BSF official said.

"These tracker dogs are our assets. They also help nab smugglers and catch trucks involved in smuggling," the BSF official said.

Something fishy about plastic pollution in Ganga

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

RESEARCHERS at Hemwati Nandan Bahuguna Garhwal University have found a new way to detect pollution levels in the Ganga river in Uttarakhand. They claim that microplastics, thermocol and clothing fibers have been found in the stomachs of fish population, which shows that the Ganga is getting polluted unhindered, besides consuming such fish can have a very adverse effect on human health.

The Department of Himalayan Aquatic Biodiversity of the University has conducted a study on the fishes of the Ganges river – from Devprayag to Haridwar. Dr Jaspal Singh Chauhan, head of the Department of Himalayan Aquatic Biodiversity, and Neha Badola, a research scholar, divided the entire region into two zones (Devprayag to Rishikesh and Rishikesh to Haridwar).

"The total length of Ganga is about 2525 km, our study focuses on a specific stretch of river extending 120 km from Devprayag to Haridwar in Uttarakhand", said Dr Chauhan.

Speaking to this correspondent, Dr Chauhan said, "After a comparative study of the two zones in the research, it has become clear that this problem has been found more in the fish of Haridwar and Rishikesh."

THE SIDE-EFFECTS OF EATING THESE FISH BY HUMANS WILL BE REVEALED IN THE SECOND PHASE OF RESEARCH

Study divides the Ganges region into two zones — DEVPRAYAG TO RISHIKESH AND RISHIKESH TO HARIDWAR

- Total length of Ganga is about 2,525 km; Study focused on a specific stretch, extending 120 km from Devprayag to Haridwar
- Samples taken from Devprayag to Haridwar have found plastic in the stomachs of fish, including cloth fibres and plastics like thermocol
- MOST OF THE MICROPLASTICS DETECTED WERE FIBRES UP TO 1MM IN SIZE
- Polyethylene, polypropylene and polystyrene are abundant in fish samples

Describing the pollution levels in the Ganga river as 'extremely worrisome', Dr Chouhan emphasized that a very specific policy is needed for plastic control.

"Ganga serves as an important source of freshwater for millions of people living in the Gangetic plains of India. Unfortunately, nowadays, the river is facing an increasing environmental challenge in the form of microplastics pollution," Dr Chauhan told this newspaper.

Researcher Neha Badola told this newspaper, "The research has revealed shocking facts. Samples taken from Devprayag to Haridwar have found plastic in the stomachs of fish, including cloth fibres and plastics like thermocol. "Lack of proper garbage disposal system, discharge of garbage into Ganga and its tributaries and uncontrolled activities along the banks of rivers in the name of tourism are the reasons."

Sharing a gist of the yearlong research to measure pollution in the Ganga through fish, Badola said, "A positive relationship was observed between the number of microplastics in fish and their body length, weight and visceral weight, while no association was found between food habit and microplastics accumulation."

"The side effects of eating these fish by humans will be revealed in the second phase of research," Badola said.

R K Jain, General Manager (Ganga river), of the Central governmnent's Namami Gange project, told this newspaper that out of the total 32 Sewerage Treatment Plants (STPs) in the state, two are set up in Devprayag and five in Rishikesh, which are continuously operational and in progress to control pollution.

PUTIN ORDERS MERCENARIES TO SWEAR OATH TO RUSSIA

MOSCOW

RUSSIAN paramilitary fighters will have to swear an oath to the Russian flag, a presidential decree signed on Friday stipulates, two days after the presumed death of Wagner mercenary group chief Yevgeny Prigozhin.

The measure is aimed at "forming the spiritual and moral foundations for the defence of the Russian Federation" and... applies to members of volunteer formations -- a term usually describing mercenary groups -- according to the decree.

It also applies to groups "contributing to the execution of tasks given to the armed forces" and territorial defence units, the decree published on the Kremlin website said. Fighters must pledge "their loyalty to the Russian Federation... strictly follow their commanders and superiors' orders, and conscientiously fulfil their obligations," the decree read.

The document was signed by President Vladimir Putin two months after Prigozhin led his fighters on a deadly rebellion against Moscow's top brass. Asked about the future of Wagner, Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said Friday that "legally the Wagner private military group does not exist."Mercenary groups are technically outlawed in Russia.

The Kremlin dismissed rumours it orchestrated the death of Prigozhin. Speculation the Kremlin may have been involved in Wednesday's crash has been rife, with Western leaders, Kremlin critics and even pro-Kremlin figures floating the idea Prigozhin may have been assassinated. Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov described the incident as "tragic" to reporters on Friday and addressed the accusations of foul play.

"Of course, in the West, this speculation is being presented from a certain angle. All of this is an absolute lie," Peskov said, urging patience as probe into the crash is on.

Belarusian strongman Alexander Lukashenko, a close ally of President Vladimir Putin who mediated the deal that ended the mutiny this summer, said he "can't imagine" the Russian President ordered the assassination.

Meanwhile, Lukashenko said Friday that Wagner members would remain in his country, after the presumed death of their leader Yevgeny Prigozhin renewed uncertainty around the group's fate.

"Wagner lived, is alive, and will live in Belarus," Lukashenko was cited as saying by state-run news agency Belta, without specifying who would lead the personnel.

As part of the deal that ended Prigozhin's mutiny, Wagner fighters set up camp in the neighbouring Belarus last month. AFP

Russia claims it shot down 42 drones

RUSSIA on Friday praised the work of its air defences, saying they had downed 42 drones over the Moscow-controlled Crimean peninsula, a day after Ukraine claimed its forces launched a raid there. Crimea, which was annexed by Russia in 2014, has been targeted by Kyiv throughout the Ukraine offensive but has come under more intense attacks in recent weeks.

SEBI SUBMITS ADANI PROBE REPORT TO SC

Investigation outcome yet to be disclosed

Sebi has completed probe in 22 matters in Adani-Hindenburg case out of total 24 matters
SEBI TOLD SUPREME COURT THAT TWO INVESTIGATIONS ARE AT INTERIM STAGE

INVESTIGATION NEARS COMPLETION

- Probe covers allegations of violations of minimum public shareholding norms, related party transactions, manipulation in stock prices, and insider trading
- Interim probes covered 13 overseas entities of Adani's companies
- Supreme Court is scheduled to hear Adani- Hindenburg case on August 29

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) on Friday informed the Supreme Court that it has completed the investigation into 22 matters out of the total 24, in the Adani - Hindenburg case.

In a status report submitted to the Supreme Court, the capital market regulator said that the remaining two investigations are at an interim stage.

Without divulging the outcome of its investigations, SEBI gave a detailed breakdown of the steps taken by it during its probe, including related party transactions. "SEBI shall take appropriate action based on the outcome of the investigations in accordance with law," the regulator said in the filing.

The probe reports finalised include allegations of manipulation of stock prices, alleged failure to disclose transactions with related parties and possible violation of insider trading in some of the group stocks.

However, on the allegation of non-compliance with the minimum public sharing requirement by investing in its own companies through overseas proxies, SEBI said its investigation covered 13 overseas entities (12 foreign portfolio investors and one foreign entity). These 13 were classified as public shareholders of the Adani group companies but allegations including the US short-seller Hindenburg Research termed some of them as close associates or run by Vinod Adani, the elder brother of group chairman Gautam Adani.

"As many of the entities linked to these foreign investors are located in tax haven jurisdictions, establishing the economic interest shareholders of the 12 FPIs remains a challenge," SEBI said adding efforts are still being made to gather details from five foreign jurisdictions pertaining to the actual owners of these investors. Pending this, the probe report is interim, it said.

According to Sebi, listed companies have to maintain a minimum public shareholding of at least 25%. Supreme Court is scheduled to hear Adani-Hindenburg case on August 29. SEBI also said an interim report has been approved by the competent authority with respect to trading in Adani group stocks in pre and post-release of the Hindenburg report. "Information from external agencies/entities actively pursued and awaited," it said adding this interim report was approved by the competent authority on August 24.

No proposal of duty cut on EV imports, says Sitharaman

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Friday denied reports that said the government is planning to reduce import duty on electric vehicles to facilitate Tesla's entry into India.

Speaking on the sidelines of the B20 Summit in New Delhi, Sitharaman said that no such proposal is currently under consideration.

This statement follows a recent media report that the government may implement a policy allowing automakers to import fully-built EVs at a reduced tax rate as low as 15%, down from the current 100% for vehicles priced above $40,000 and 70% for others.

Elon Musk's Tesla is gearing up to enter the Indian market. After Prime Minister Narendra Modi's recent visit to the USA, Tesla officials have resumed talks with the Indian government. Tesla had earlier sought tax cuts on imports of its cars, a demand which was rejected by the Indian government.

Meanwhile, the FM said the criticality of managing inflation for economic growth during her address at the CII B20 Summit INDIA 2023. She underlined the need to address supply-side factors in addition to relying solely on interest rates to combat inflation.

She warned that persistently high inflation could weaken demand and hinder economic recovery if elevated interest rates are maintained for an extended period.

The latest government data revealed that retail inflation reached a 15-month high of 7.44% in July, primarily driven by rising prices of vegetables, pulses, cereals, and spices.

AI will contribute to job creation: Chandrasekaran

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DURING a panel discussion at B20 Summit India 2023, N Chandrasekaran, Chairman of Tata Sons and B20 India Chair, expressed that artificial intelligence (AI) will contribute to job creation than job loss in India.

He said AI has the potential to empower individuals with limited or no skills, enabling them to engage in higher-level job roles. Chandrasekaran also commended India's remarkable progress in data privacy and protection, achieved through a techno-legal approach. "In a country like India, AI will create jobs because it will empower people with little skill or no skill to perform higher-level jobs. A nurse will be able to take on the workload of a doctor, and that's how it will scale up people," Chandrasekaran said.

RBI asks NBFCs to strengthen governance

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

RESERVE BANK OF INDIA (RBI) Governor Shaktikanta Das on Friday asked non-banking financial companies (NBFCs), including housing finance companies, to strengthen governance standards and assurance mechanisms.

The Governor held a meeting with MD & CEOs of select large NBFCs. Government NBFCs and housing finance companies (HFCs) also participated in the meeting, the RBI said in a statement.

"The Governor highlighted the need for further strengthening the governance standards and assurance mechanisms viz. compliance, risk management and internal audit in these entities," the central bank said.

Discussions were held on diversifying the resources for NBFCs and HFCs to contain increasing reliance on bank borrowings; risks associated with high credit growth in retail segment mostly in unsecured; and prioritising the upgradation of IT systems and cyber security.

Market falls on anticipation of Fed chief's speech

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market plunged on Friday with all sectoral indices closing in red amid weak global cues, renewed fears of inflation and more interest rate hikes.

Sensex plunged 365.83 points to close the week at 64,886.51 while NSE Nifty50 slumped 143.70 points to close 19,243.

The markets fell ahead of the US Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell's keynote speech at the annual Jackson Hole. Participants were expecting Powell to maintain a hawkish tone on future rate hikes and this is what exactly happened.

Powell, in his speech, warned that the US central bank is ready to take additional measures to curb inflation, including raising rates further until inflation comes in the target range of 2%. Consumer inflation in the US grew at 3.2% annually in July while the key rate at 5.25% is the highest in 22 years. While Powell said there has been a reduction in inflation from its peak, the current level still poses a concern. "We are prepared to raise rates further if appropriate, and intend to hold policy at a restrictive level until we are confident that inflation is moving sustainably down toward our objective," he said.

If it happens, otherwise we are also working parallely to develop our own EV cars," Jindal said on the sidelines of B20 Summit India 2023. He added that EV is an area that JSW Group must enter as it is the future and this is a good time to make a foray into this space.

JSW Group, which has a presence in sectors like steel, energy, infrastructure, cement, paints, venture capital and sports, has shown its interest in entering the electric mobility space for the past some time now but its efforts are said to have escalated after holding talks with MG Motor which is scouting for an Indian partner to avoid regulatory hurdles.

MG Motor in May this year had said that they are planning to sell a majority stake in its India operation to a local partner (or partners) in the next two to four years.

Another gaming start-up Fantok to halt operations after govt levied 28% GST

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the GST Council's decision to levy a 28% GST on online gaming revenue, five gaming start-ups have had to either lay off or shut operations. Real money gaming app Fantok is the latest one to halt operations.

The company said, "We have made the difficult decision to temporarily suspend operations at Fantok. This pause will allow us the time needed to explore a pivot that aligns with both the evolving regulatory landscape and our mission to deliver meaningful experiences."

"We are proud of the accomplishments we achieved during this phase – from reaching 15k+ downloads in just 3 months, to fostering a community of over 130 creators who brought their innovative games to our platform," it added.

The evolving landscape of regulatory measures in the real money gaming sector in India, as announced earlier this year, has presented complex legal hurdles that have forced us to reevaluate our direction, Fantok added. Apart from Fantok, gaming start-up Quizy temporarily shut its operations. "The introduction of a 28% GST rate on entry fees further compounded our woes and murdered the industry finally. We had always strived to strike a balance between generating revenue for the government and providing an enjoyable experience for our players. However, an abrupt increase in the GST rate would have placed an undue tax burden on the gaming industry, affecting not just our profitability but also the overall gaming ecosystem," Sachin Yadav, Quizy co-founder, said in a LinkedIn post.

Hike's Rush Gaming Universe (RGU) reduced its workforce by 22% or 55 people and last week, online poker platform Spartan Poker fired 40% of its workforce.

JFS removal from indices postponed to August 31

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE exclusion of Jio Financial Services (JFSL) from benchmark Sensex and other indices has been now deferred to August 31. JFS was first expected to be excluded from stock indices from August 24, which was later postponed to August 29.

"Since the stock has hit lower circuit for two consecutive days, i.e., August 24 and August 25, removal of JFSL from all S&P BSE Indices will be postponed by another three days. JFSL will now be removed from all S&P BSE Indices, effective prior to the open of trading on Friday, September 1," BSE Indices said in a circular.

JFS shares closed in green on Friday after hitting lower circuit for five straight sessions.

Asia Cup: Injury, Covid setback for SL

Sri Lanka on Friday suffered a major setback as four of their cricketers, including pacer Dushamantha Chameera and leg-spinner Wanindu Hasaranga, were rendered doubtful for the upcoming Asia Cup because of injuries and Covid-19. Chameera could be ruled out of the Asia Cup because of a shoulder injury. Hasaranga could miss at least two matches in the Asia Cup, according to a report. Sri Lanka will begin their Asia Cup campaign on August 31 at Pallekele.

As other Indians toil, Olympic champ wastes little time in laying down a marker on Friday

ONE & DONE: NEERAJ CANTERS INTO FINAL

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE Budapest sky was blue, the sun was beating down the track as Neeraj Chopra stood checking his javelin and looking towards the runway and the final destination of the projectile. The World Championships this time had been quite a sad story for India. However, like always when Neeraj is there, there is always hope; dollops of it. In fact, at the world stage, he almost seems unbeatable. On Friday, too, he looked focussed and was extremely sure about the job at hand. He hurled the spear to 88.77m, way beyond the qualification mark of 83m and walked away. Even as the bunch of throwers in both groups struggled to even cross the 80m mark, forget about 83m, he did not need to complete his quota of three throws. He comfortably topped the overall qualification.

If others struggled to cross 80m, two other Indians crossed that mark with some effort — DP Manu (81.31m) in Group A and Kishore Jena (80.55m) in Group B. What was expected for Neeraj, he delivered but the other two Indians in the fray were the story of the day. For the first time, they assured India three throwers in world championships final. Some much needed balm to soothe the pain. Just to add to the enormity of the the achievement, Jena was not even supposed to be part of the team after his visa was denied days before he was supposed to travel. However, after the intervention of the government, he did get it but days after the contingent had left.

Like always, Neeraj considers his first throw crucial and he was concentrating on trying to qualify early. This, according to him, he has learnt from the London worlds where he tried to preserve his energy for the final and finished outside the automatic qualification mark. "I try to qualify early," he told journalists at the venue after qualifying. The Olympic champion also revealed that because of the conditions in Budapest (it's hot) and late morning session, he did not expend much energy during warm-up. "Did some routine stretching and one or two throws in the stadium," he said. Since he was throwing last (18 throwers), he paced his warmup as well. As for pressure, he said it was part of the game. His coach Klaus Bartonietz too was happy with the effort as it's his season best and he felt this would provide a good base for the final. However, one has to manage the final.

Neeraj also spoke highly about Manu and felt he should be doing well in the final as well. Miles away, one person who is eagerly waiting for the final is Manu's coach Kashinath Naik. He is in touch with Manu and in fact had spoken to him after the qualifying event. "It is a proud moment that three Indians have qualified for the world championships final for the first time," said the coach who could not travel to Budapest. "We have talent in the country and it is now reflecting in the results too. India is turing into a javelin hub and after Neeraj, everyone is dreaming big. I have two more throwers who can throw 80m. All of them say if Neeraj bhai can, so can we. Also, facilities in centres including that of SAI and ASI have improved a lot."

Speaking about Manu, who finished sixth among 36 throwers (one did not start), Kashinath felt Sunday will be a different day. "If he can throw as much as he does during practice (about 86m) it will be very good," he said. "He is feeling fine and we speak about tactics as well. He has been improving and can do better." He also talked about the 23-year-old's falling habit. "If Neeraj has stopped falling less, Manu has started falling," said Kashinath, who hopes his ward finishes the final in a strong note.

Jena, who finished ninth among the 12 qualified throwers, said he was happy to be in the final, especially after spending sleepless nights when he was denied a visa before departure. Jena's Group B was much more competitive with eight throwers qualifying and two attaining automatic qualification mark of 83m. Pakistan's Arshad Nadeem, who has a personal best of 90.18m, got the maximum of 86.79m (season's best) in his last attempt. While Czech Jakub Vadlejch finished behind him with 83.50. The two are behind Neeraj.

BOL STRIKES GOLD

BUDAPEST: Femke Bol struck gold in the 400m hurdles amid an unexpected Jamaican double gold rush at the World Athletics Championships in Budapest on Thursday. Bol made up for the disappointment of falling with the line at her mercy in the mixed 4x400m relay with her Dutch quartet by producing a totally dominant victory in the hurdles in 51.70 seconds.

Prannoy Axe-lsen, Sat-Chi lose

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

HS PRANNOY dipped into his hat and found a colony of rabbits as the Indian shuttler engineered a sensational takedown of World No 1, Viktor Axelsen. In the process, Prannoy guaranteed at least a bronze medal at the ongoing World Championships (at least one Indian has medalled at every edition of the Worlds since 2011).

The match was going as per script after the Dane, playing in front of a raucous home crowd at the Royal Arena, had won the first game 21-13. That's when Prannoy, shoulder heavily strapped after taking a tumble recently, cut the errors from his game.

Instead, Axelsen, who has always found Prannoy an awkward opponent (a lot of their H2Hs have gone the full distance), was the one making the errors. With the crowd letting out nervous energy, the 31-year-old knew he was on the road to picking up his first Worlds medal. What he successfully did was he didn't allow the defending champion the space to unleash those damaging smashes from the back court.

He kept maneuvering him from side to side as well as sent him to the back court on odd occasions; in a way, he kept him guessing. In short, the final scoreline of 13-21, 21-15, 21-16 wasn't a surprise.

HS Prannoy returns to Viktor Axelsen during the match on Friday | AP

In fact, in the third game, the expected Axelsen fightback never came as Prannoy controlled the tempo of the rallies. Whenever rallies exceeded any significant length, the Indian was in control of its destiny. In the end, that proved to be the difference. However, it was a mixed day as the second seeded pair of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty lost out to Kim Astrup and Anders Rasmussen.

While history favoured the Danes — they had enjoyed a 5-2 H2H against the Indians — these two pairs hadn't faced each other for almost two years. In the intervening period, the Danes had slipped while the Indians had steadily climbed the ladder of success. This year alone, they had claimed four titles, including their first BWF World Tour 1000 in Indonesia.

None of that counted as the World No. 11 showcased their world-class defending skills to upstage the younger pair in straight games (21-18, 21-19). Roared on by the most partisan of crowds, they kept putting shuttles back in play. With both Indian players feeling the pressure, the unforced errors count from their racquets was one of the constant themes in the match. Whenever they looked to build some pressure, a couple of errors allowed the Danes to maintain a stranglehold on the situation. In fact, even if the scoreboard suggests two closely-fought games, the Astrup-Rasmussen combined had substantial early leads in both stanzas (11-6 in the opener and 11-7 in the second game).

In the second, the Indian pair went for broke at the fag end and levelled the game but the Danes mixed attack with defence to advance to the last four and guarantee themselves a silver. For Rankireddy and Shetty, this is an opportunity missed. If they had advanced to the final, they would have become the new World No. 1. If they had won, they would have also become the first men from India to have multiple Worlds medals. Now, it's back to the drawing board before two extreme tests in China (Super 1000 before the Asian Games in Hangzhou) in one month.

ODI WC: Fans struggle to book non-India tickets

GOMESH S @Chennai

AS the general sales of tickets for the non-India matches from the 2023 ICC Men's ODI World Cup opened on BookMyShow — the official ticketing platform — at 8PM on Friday, the first-hand experience of trying to get hold of tickets wasn't a pleasant one for the fans.

Srinivas, a fan from Chennai, had the website open on his computer as well as the app from 7.40PM in an attempt to book tickets for the clash between Pakistan and Afghanistan to be played at the MA Chidambaram Stadium on October 23. As soon as the sale opened, he tried to select the venue and match but by the time he got there, the site seemed to have crashed.

"For half an hour, nothing was happening. It was showing 'something went wrong' or network error. Then, I left it for some time and I tried again. This time I selected ₹2500 tickets and when I clicked the book icon, it said I booked two tickets and it was ₹5,000. And beyond that I was not able to proceed," Srinivas told this daily. After almost an hour, when he tweeted about not being able to book, his friend, who was able to secure tickets for himself, reached out. Srinivas asked his friend to book whatever ticket was available and he eventually got one. "It's been almost 90 minutes. Most people generally give up unless you are very interested. I was planning to take my kid, that is why I wanted to get a ticket in a stand with a good view but now I am not so sure," he said.

Tareque Laskar from Bengaluru, however, wasn't that lucky. Trying to book tickets for Pakistan games against Australia and New Zealand. "Forget booking, I could not even get that far. When I selected Australia-Pakistan game, ₹1,000 tickets were sold out already, I moved to ₹3,000 and decided to buy, selected seats and everything. Then I tried to go forward some error came and it was completely gone. Then I thought the Pak-NZ game will be easier, considering it is a day game, but when I got there it said the ₹1,000 tickets were sold out and the ₹3,000-5,000 ones were not showing. I came back to main page and went through New Zealand team for the same match, but could not go there because the entire New Zealand page said 'it is coming soon'. Eventually, I gave up," said Laskar, who felt that bigger problem is the lack of clarity on number of tickets were made available. "It was a nightmare because anything you click is like a lottery and from a platform point of view, BookMyShow have their share of blame as well. At every point you do not know what went wrong," he said.

Other issues the fans this daily got in touch experienced were that some of them weren't able to select more than two seats, some were told they had exceeded the limit without even booking the tickets. They also felt that the costlier tickets opened up first and later lower denomination tickets appeared. While the tickets opened on Friday are just for non-India games, fans hope that when the India games go on sale later this week, the process would be better. "I don't know if they are releasing in batches. If they are, I think that should be communicated. I don't get the incredible level of opaqueness or lack of transparency. We shall see," said Laskar.

TIYANA, Sakshi Suryavanshi and Kirandeep Kaur combined to clinch gold in the women's 50m pistol here on Friday as India finished the 2023 ISSF World Championships with six gold and eight bronze medals.

Hence, India finished the event with 14 medals, second behind China. India also ensured four Paris Olympic quotas from the tournament. In the team event, the Indian trio grossed 1,573 points to secure gold while China finished second with 1,567, and Mongolia was third with 1,566. Later, Tiyana also won a bronze in the individual Women's 50M Pistol event. Tiyana shot 533 during the individual competition. Sakshi shot 531 for the fifth place and Kirandeep finished 11th while shooting 509.

Wrestler Divya books Worlds ticket

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

AFTER getting married to bodybuilder Sachin Pratap in February this year, wrestler Divya Kakran decided to return to the mat within a fortnight. The setting was completely different this time though. She has shifted to Meerut in Uttar Pradesh from Delhi leaving the academy where she had trained for more than a decade.

Having won two bronze at the Commonwealth Games (2018 and 2022) and a bronze medal at the 2018 Asian Games apart from multiple international medals in her pet weight category (68kg), Divya was itching to represent the country in the biggest sporting extravaganza, the Olympics. "I married in February so that I will get some time to return to the mat and qualify for the Paris Olympics," Divya told this daily after winning the 76kg selection trials held for the World Championships in Patiala on Friday. The Worlds is the first qualifier for the Olympics.

But the competition is not her first since marriage. She did take part in the Asian Games selection trials last month but was beaten in the final in 50 seconds by Haryana wrestler Kiran. "Throughout my wrestling career, I competed in 68kg apart from a few exceptions when I played in 72kg. That proved to be the difference as I committed a lot of mistakes in the final. It's good that I lost that bout as I would not have rectified my errors had I won the final. I am an aggressive wrestler but here at 76kg, most of the competitors play defensively. I learnt that last time and this helped me in the Worlds trials," 25-year-old Divya said.

Divya believes the Almighty has once given her a chance to fulfill her Olympic dream. "Time has come to fulfill my long-cherished dream."

Antim, Sarita win

Talented Antim Panghal, who recently became the first Indian wrestler to clinch two consecutive gold at the U-20 World Championships, won the 53kg trials to book a place in the national team.

She won the Asian Games selection trials as well but was kept as a standby to Vinesh Phogat, who was given direct entry by the ad-hoc committee. Vinesh later pulled out of the quadrennial event to pave the way for Antim to compete. Sarita Mor also won the trials in the 57kg to make it to the team.

Meanwhile, all the six Greco-Roman wrestlers, who won the Asian Games trials, decided to skip the Worlds trials as reported by this daily. Competitions were held in all 10 weight categories in women's wrestling and Greco-Roman on Friday. The selection trials in men's freestyle will be held on Saturday.

FOOTBALL

Klopp dismisses Salah speculation

AGENCIES @ Liverpool

LIVERPOOL manager Jurgen Klopp dismissed suggestions on Friday that Mohamed Salah could become the latest star name to depart European football for Saudi Arabia.

According to reports, Al-Ittihad are trying to lure the Egyptian to the Gulf state with a huge salary offer that would rival the deals that enticed Cristiano Ronaldo and Neymar to the Gulf kingdom.

Salah signed a three-year contract extension at Anfield just over 12 months ago and his agent has previously poured cold water on speculation of a move. "Talk about media stories," Klopp said at his prematch press conference ahead of Sunday's trip to Newcastle. "Nothing to talk about from my point of view — Mo Salah is a Liverpool player. "He is an essential player, was and will be. There is nothing there. If there was, the answer would be no."

EPL FIXTURES

Sunday: Burnley vs Aston Villa (6.30 pm), Sheffield United vs Man City (6.30 pm), Newcastle vs Liverpool (9 pm).

Wataru Endo could make his first start for the Reds at St. James' Park after he appeared as a substitute in last weekend's 3-1 win over Bournemouth.

Asiad: Dipa distraught, no women in e-sports

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

FINALLY, after a long delay, the sports ministry has approved the names of 634 athletes for the Asian Games in Hangzhou, China from September 23 to October 8. There was suspense among National Sports Federations (NSFs) on who would be omitted and included in the final list from the 850 odd names (440 male and 410 female) that were sent. However, after the inclusion of football, which did not meet the criteria set by the sports ministry, most federations were expecting to get the nod. If 30 per cent support staff and other officials of the Indian Olympic Association are counted then the total number could be above 900.

The one athlete who is distraught and shattered is gymnast Dipa Karmakar, who until was harbouring some hope of boarding a flight to Hangzhou. Her coach Bishweshwar Nandi too was peeved with the decision to omit her despite topping the trials conducted by the gymnastics federation. "Dipa is heartbroken," he told this daily, adding though they knew her name was not considered, yet they hoped that it's included at the last moment. "This is the first time I am seeing that a team is being selected on the basis of past performance. Even as a coach and earlier as a player we always selected athletes based on current performance and form. But this time it was based on past performances. This is not good for Indian gymnastics and will take the sport backward. The men's team could have been considered." Only one gymnast has been cleared.

"If Dipa would not have topped the trials I would have never spoken for her. She is in good nick and would have done well," said the Dronacharya Award recipient. "I must congratulate Pranati (Nayak) who qualified and hope she does well. But more players should have been considered in gymnastics." If gymnastics fraternity was not happy with their omission, a few athletes including those from kurash, kayaking and canoeing may even move the court to challenge the decision of the ministry and SAI.

While some federations have been striving for gender equality, one discipline that will have zero Indian women at the Asian Games is esports (15 men). While Lokesh Suji, director Esports Federation of India (ESFI), wants to change the skewed nature of the participation rates, he said 'not a single woman registered' when the national qualifiers were on to pick the Asian Games squad last year. Esports, unlike most other disciplines, is an ideal environment to have mixed teams as competition isn't based on gender. "When we had the nationals, no woman came forward to register for the meets," Suji told this daily. "They didn't even come forward to take part in single player games."

Of the four weightlifters (two men and two women) expected to be in the weightlifting team, only the women were given a nod.

City-based Rohan Gurbaxani, who was seen in Rocky Aur Rani Kii Prem Kahaani, and Made in Heaven 2, speaks about his Hindi movie debut, and his experience of sharing screen space with stalwarts like Jaya Bachchan

'PATIENCE IS THE NAME OF THE GAME'

A still from Made in Heaven 2(top) and Rocky Aur Rani Kii Prem Kahaani

MONIKA MONALISA

YOU would have seen him as an England-returned groom in Made in Heaven 2's episode of Mirror Mirror on the Wall, who was absolutely in love with his 'perfectly caramel-coloured' bride, or in Karan Johar's latest magnum opus, Rocky Aur Rani Kii Prem Kahaani where he was goofily known as 'the stevia guy'. But one thing is for sure, Bengaluru boy Rohan Gurbaxani has made his presence felt in Bollywood with his grand debut.

The success feels surreal but Gurbaxani is soaking it in very slowly. "I feel extremely fortunate and grateful to have my debut and second project with such massive banners, especially because millions of people will be watching my work," says Gurbaxani, who was last seen in the Hollywood movie Chick Fight which starred Alec Baldwin.

Recalling his first day on a Dharma Productions set, the actor says he could not believe he was sitting in front of veteran actors like Jaya Bachchan and Karan Johar who were directing the scene. "I had to tell myself to stay calm and not freak out. I am someone who can keep the feeling of being starstruck aside and treat my co-actors, in this case Ranveer Singh and Jaya Bachchan, as teammates rather than larger-than-life figures. I don't let it distract my craft. When I'm in a scene, I am locked in and available to spring off the energy of my co-actor and let the magic happen," he shares.

In Made in Heaven 2, he was possibly a groom who was a total 'green flag', being extremely supportive of his fiance Sarina. The role came to him coincidentally. "It was quite a spontaneous, coincidental story. I had finished my acting degree at NYU Tisch School of the Arts, Covid happened and then I was back in Bengaluru. I wanted to get my name out into the hindi film industry. When I wasn't working on my craft, blind WhatsApping casting directors was my favourite activity during my free time. I booked a few ads and the director of my first ad liked me and later I found out that he recommended me to multiple other casting directors in the industry and things started taking off from there," says the 26-year-old, who was on the edge of his seat when he got that email about being selected for the role.

Being in the industry completely on his own, Gurbaxani found the key to survival being patience. "Everyone gets impatient in the beginning in any industry. But the patient ones are the ones who succeed. So, patience is the name of the game, only those who persevere through those ups and downs can really make it far in my opinion. It also comes down to gratitude and not comparing yourself with the journeys of others. Just have your horse blinds on, keep your head down and do the work," says Gurbaxani, who is looking forward to his upcoming movies Kho Gaye Hum Kahan, starring Ananya Pandey, Adarsh Gourav and Siddhant Chaturvedi, and Bandish Bandits season 2.

While his schedule now revolves around different shoots, he still finds time to take a break to come home to Bengaluru. "It has been reduced considerably. Bengaluru is very different from Mumbai. It gives me a feeling of being grounded. The city is also a reminder of how far I have come," Gurbaxani says as he signs off on an emotional note.

'The Furrl app is an experience unlike any existing e-commerce platform'

ESHA Tiwary, Founder, Furrl, has introduced a ground-breaking online destination tailored for today's astute shoppers. With a passion for innovation and a keen understanding of evolving consumer trends, Esha embarked on the journey to create Furrl, a platform that caters to the desires of the modern digital-savvy consumer. She speaks about the brand and he future plans.

What was the idea behind starting Furrl?

■ New age online consumers have evolved rapidly over the last few years. They seek something different from the traditional brands – they want brands with compelling stories that they can connect with and that help them express their individuality.

But it's not just the consumers that are changing. Over the last 2-3 years, we have also seen an explosion of independent homegrown brands that are digital-first, have a unique point of view, and are trying to get in front of these evolving customers.

Furrl was launched in December 2022 as the destination that helps new-age consumers discover and shop independent homegrown brands. It is a unique take on e-commerce, designed specifically for these consumers, using a #Vibe-first product experience to help consumers discover brands just right for them. With 10,000+ products across fashion and lifestyle, Furrl is the new online destination for today's savvy shoppers.

Unlike traditional e-commerce platforms, Furrl provides a refreshing browsing experience for online shoppers who are keen to find something unique beyond the conventional established brands.

What is the USP of Furrl?

■ Today's savvy women are excited to find new brands that help them embody their unique sense of style. A personalized shopping experience is the name of the game, and one they are unable to find anywhere else. Furrl's #Vibe-first browsing experience is definitely a huge USP and it has received rave consumer reviews. Whether you vibe with #BohoChic, #NewNeutrals or #ClassyAffair, this online destination of cool independent brands has it all.

Another exciting thing about the Furrl app experience is how it seamlessly enables users to share anything from brands, products or even whole collections they vibe with, making it easier than ever for consumers to share their new finds in their circles. This is very popular Furrl's consumers who love sharing the unique products they discover on Furrl with their friends.

Apart from taking a fresh approach to brand discovery, Furrl has also built on an innovative business model at the back-end, which is asset light and designed for economic sustainability.

The Furrl app is an experience unlike any existing e-commerce platform. The concept is based on months of user research, which helped the team deeply understand how new age consumers want their experience to be shaped in this rapidly growing market, and how acutely a fresh e-commerce approach is needed to solve the problem of new brand discovery.

Since you have also worked in the startup domain, how has your experience been with new age brands on Furrl?

■ Having worked closely with and mentored several start-ups over the last one and half decades, I have an affinity to entrepreneurs who dare to dream big, and who are not satisfied with status quo. At Furrl, I've had the incredible opportunity to collaborate with many inspiring, creative new-age brands who stand for something unique and have big aspirations. They are bringing a breath of fresh air into the world of fashion and lifestyle.

One of the other inspiring things in this journey has been to see how many of these new-age brands are led by women. Most of these women are professionals who have chosen to quit their traditional careers and build something unique.

Furrl is here to revolutionize e-commerce as we know it. This is an industry which has not seen a lot of innovation in several years, largely because consumer needs haven't changed significantly. But now consumers demand something new. And Furrl is leading the new wave of e-commerce.

What kind of consumer evolution have you seen in the last 3 years?

■ The consumer evolution over the last three years has been remarkable. The digital acceleration that came post Covid, deep adoption of content browsing platforms like Instagram, and the growing share of women in the online consumer base – all have led to rapidly changing consumer needs over the past 3 years.

Our customer survey results indicate a strong desire for a platform that enables discovery – where the consumers don't have a specific brand or product in mind, but instead have a strong notion of what they stand for and ideas they identify with. Furrl's unique #Vibe-first browsing experience is built to serve exactly this need. The clutter-breaking shopping feed on the Furrl app enables a highly engaging experience to suit content consumption patterns of today's savvy consumers.

Tell us about your future plans.

■ Furrl is building the largest destination for the discovery and commerce of new-age brands in fashion and lifestyle. Through its innovative product approach, Furrl aims to unlock the USD 100 billion D2C opportunity in India and target the top 20% of online consumers in the country over the next three years.

Furrl has started with a sharp focus on savvy women consumers. They are soon expanding their offering to men and kids' brands as well. Additionally, given further insights from their user research, Furrl plans to integrate innovative social commerce features on their app, which will fuel further growth and virality.

Having raised funding from reputed early-stage investors, Furrl's vision is to build a global destination to unlock new age brand discovery.

FIT BIT

MERMAID SIDE STRETCH POSE

This is a beginner level seated lateral stretching pose. It is included in Restorative Yoga and Pilates because it is a mild yet effective oblique stretch. It is called Mermaid Pose as the lower body/legs are folded in a position that resembles a mermaid. This restorative pose is a great lateral flexion.

STEPS

- Start in Dandasana (Staff Pose) and stabilise your breath.
- Inhale and fold both legs from the knees on the left side (like a mermaid), keeping the knees and shins stacked but keeping them separated enough so that the hips and shoulders are squared.
- Inhale and lift your arms in a 'T' (horizontal) position. Lift your chest upward and engage your core by breathing slowly and deeply.
- Exhale and bend on your right side, extending the right arm behind the ear and place the other hand on your knees.
- Keep your pelvis grounded and try not to lift your hips up.
- Stay in this position for a minute. Then, inhale, get back in the 'T' position, and repeat it on the other side.
- Finally, inhale, release the pose, and come back to Dandasana and relax in Dandasana Hands Back.

BENEFITS

- It works mainly on the upper body.
- Stretches the internal and external oblique muscles.
- Extends back muscles called the Latissimus Dorsi and Erector Spinae.
- Increases flexibility in the lower back and sides (obliques) of the body.
- Can be included in prenatal and postnatal yoga.
- Prepares for intermediate poses like Wild Thing Pose, knee-to-floor version.
- It is a mild chest and heart opener.
- Balances the pose and avoids leaning forward.
- Decompresseses the spine and muscles around the pelvis region.
- Makes the body relaxed and energised, thereby releasing stiffness.
- Suspends blood flow in the lower part of the body and thereby increases blood circulation in the upper body.
- Stimulates the digestive and respiratory systems.
- Reduces stiffness and releases tension in the obliques, latissimus dorsi, and erector spinae.
- Therapeutic for people with acute lower back pain.

LIMITATIONS

People can avoid this in cases of injury or recent surgery in the knees, hips, ankles, shoulders, and neck.

Coordination between breath and movement is required to achieve the pose correctly.

MOON MADNESS

RUBINATIONS
Rubi Chakravarti
Writer, actor and funny girl

WHEN singer Bruno Mars soulfully crooned, 'At night, when the stars light up my room, I sit by myself talking to the moon', I played this song over and over again, remembering my father and his myriad contributions to our country. Why did this man give so much and take back so little? Because he was a part of a wave that just wanted to re-build his country with like-minded patriots, and get going with the best. My half-French half-Pathan mom and my Bengali Brahmin dad shunned the violence, the outcry and the bigotry to love one another, and bring up three kids in a totally nuclear set-up. Robin, Rita and Rubi, we didn't belong to any sect, caste creed or religion. We were and are Indians.

My father, a Brigadier in the Indian Army was a visionary, with an intelligence quotient that bordered on the formidable! In fact even as a child I was quite convinced he was an alien! He inculcated in me an interest in the extra-terrestrial, by gifting me hordes of books by Erich von Däniken who wrote the Chariots of Gods. I was the youngest and he was already a well-established leader and visionary when I was born.

But what became an emotional legacy was LRDE (electronics and radar development establishment). He was the founder/director, and the man who brought 'electronics' into South India. They laid the seed of many great scientific inventions and pioneered the research for radars, tele-communication equipment and even drones! Different research and development establishments then aligned and became the massive 'think-tank', DRDO which ultimately conjoined with ISRO and laid the foundation for our space program. I missed my dad, Dr Bhagwantam, Dr Abdul Kalam and Krishna Menon yesterday. All these super minds came home, confabulated at the office and I grew up thinking it was the most normal thing to have defense ministers and prime ministers and super-minds hanging around! Because 'dad' was always available and he never gave us any room for remonstrance. I spoke to the moon last night and I hoped he was listening...

Though I was still nursing a sore leg, my sense of adventure kicked in. I was dying to wear my evening togs and get a first-hand 'dekko' at our very 'exclusive' Bangalore Wine Club event which apparently sold out in 15 minutes. The Leela Palace is a favourite hot-spot for the bold and beautiful of our ooru. The ultra-swank new speakeasy bar (where the adventure began), had a secret password to gain entry. The members with their haute-couture got into the spirit of things as the band played popular jazz and blues numbers. The GM Madhav Sehgal led us to the famed Le Cirque for an excellent French dinner and later to the 'Cigar-Room' for brandy and petit-fours! Now if this doesn't cause a little 'FOMO-furour' with the precluded I don't know what will.

Marco Pierre-White, the three-time Michelin star awardee and celebrity chef was in town. We have met before and other 'chefs' should take a leaf out his book. Humble, down to earth and brilliant! We spent a glorious afternoon with him, tasting his food, singing with the band and dancing. He was the epitome of grace as he posed for pictures and signed autographs. It must be the moon madness!

Cheers to your mixology adventure

ONE of the takeaways from the pandemic has been our willingness to learn new skills. One such is the art of making cocktails. For those of you who prefer to skip the crowd at any bar and yet treat yourself to an Instagram-worthy drink, learning the art of mixology is a game-changer.

Keep a mix of the must-haves, vodka, gin, whiskey (bourbon, scotch, or rye), tequila, rum, brandy. Once you've got the essentials, it's time to invest in tools that will help you. A bar cart is a good option to house all your mixology needs. A cocktail shaker is most essential to shake that drink. Make sure to invest in stainless steel ones. Any cocktail lover knows that the key to the perfect drink is glassware. From martini glasses to classic highballs and everything in between, serving a drink in good glassware will elevate the experience.

MIXOLOGY
Ratan Dash
(The writer is mixologist, Boozy Griffin Marathahalli)

Now that the groundwork is done, it's time to get to the fun part, making the drinks. This involves shaking, stirring or throwing the drink where each method imparts its characteristics to the drink, influencing its taste, temperature, and texture. Shaking is the go-to technique for cocktails that include juices, creams, eggs, or other mixers that need thorough blending. Start by measuring your spirits and mixers. Fill the shaker about two-thirds with ice cubes. Place the shaker's cap and shake vigorously for 10-15 seconds. Use a strainer to pour the drink into your glass. Stirring is the preferred method for cocktails that relies solely on spirits to preserve their texture. Chill the glass by placing it in the freezer or fill it with ice water. Pour the spirits into a mixing glass filled with ice. Use a long bar spoon and stir to create a vortex in the centre for 30 seconds, let it rest, and strain as you pour into the chilled glass.

Some cocktail recipes call for a muddled ingredient (mojitos and old fashioned are on this list). Simply put the ingredients in a shallow dish and grind until they are crushed, releasing their essential oils and strong flavours. Once ground, add them to the rest of the cocktail ingredients and mix.

Straining is as simple as it sounds – you often will pour a drink after it was shaken or stirred through a strainer to make sure the cocktail doesn't have any chunks of ingredients or seeds in it. Many shakers come with a built-in strainer, but if it doesn't you may want to invest in a fine mesh strainer!

Remember, mastering mixology is a journey. Practice, experimentation, and a willingness to learn will lead to delicious and captivating homemade cocktails that rival those of the finest bars.

THE ICONIC KARIYA COMBINATION IS BACK: DARSHAN AND PREM TO REUNITE AFTER TWO DECADES

The upcoming film, bankrolled by KVN Productions, is expected to be one of the most expensive films in India

CE FEATURES

EVER since KVN Productions teased "a big announcement" a couple of days ago, the social media has been buzzing with excitement. Some speculated that the announcement might be related to the eagerly awaited Yash 19. However, CE had learnt that the notable production house is teaming up with Challenging Star Darshan, for a film directed by Prem. This speculation has now been confirmed with an official announcement from KVN Productions, featuring a photo of Darshan, producer Venkat Konanki, director Prem, Rakshita and Suprith.

Although this is the first time Darshan is working with the production house, Challenging Star and director Prem have a history that goes back twenty years, they had earlier collaborated on the 2003 film Kariya. The film, which centred around a young gangster's romantic story, was a huge hit then. Now, two decades later, they are teaming up again.

Prem, Rakshita, Darshan, Venkat Narayan Konanki, and Suprith

Reports suggest that KVN Productions is planning to make the upcoming film on a grander scale with some sources suggesting that it could become one of the most expensive projects in Indian Cinema. The first glimpse dropped hints that something remarkable is in the works. The announcement poster suggests that the film could be either historical, mythological or a n out-and-out commercial entertainer. However the makers are yet to reveal details about the plot. This is Prem's second collaboration with the production house, following KD.

The yet-to-be-titled film is expected to begin production after Prem and Darshan complete work on their current projects. Darshan is currently wrapping up Kaatera by Rockline Productions, which is being directed by Tharun Kishore Sudhir. After this, he will begin working on the Prakash Jayaram directorial. Meanwhile, Prem is currently filming KD, which features Dhruva Sarja and Bollywood actor Sanjay Dutt, along with other top actors.

TOBY
An unavoidable, honest piece of art

A SHARADHAA

IN the realm of cinema, the fusion of personal anguish and creative flair exerts an unparalleled magnetism. Toby, the recent creation of filmmaker Raj B Shetty embodies this captivating amalgamation. Echoing his own poignant words, 'When you hurt an artist, a poem is born', the film constructs a realm from agony, interwoven into a poetic fabric. Toby traverses through vulnerability and strength, extending an invitation for profound exploration.

The title card of Toby unfurls like a vivid canvas, adorned in red and black hues, with coastal tints, and an air of intrigue tones of Maari Ge Daari. We soon find ourselves at the police station where Sampath (Bharath), an aspiring constable in Thamas Katte, delves into the intricacies of the village with his subordinate, Kushalappa. As Jenny (Chaithra B Achar) approaches the police station in search of her father, Toby (Raj B Shetty), a mute man whose journey unfolds through perspectives of various people. Among them, is the church father Iglesias (Yogi Bankeshwar), the one who christens the orphan with the name Toby, bestowing voice upon the voiceless. Toby, emerging from gibberish, is hailed as God. Growing up, Toby faces abuse from the warden; the first one to embrace him is the Father. Beneath his unpretentious gaze lies a mystery—a fusion of innocence and devilish enigma. Toby's interactions with people like Dhamodara (Gopalkrishna Deshpande) lead to an unwitting friendship, it is he who lends him a helping hand by offering an occupation at the mortuary. The mosaic of the narrative expands to include Savitri (Samyukta Hornad), a sex worker, and Shalini,(Arakere) the neightbour, Shalini (Sandhya Arakere and the child artiste (Snigdha), who plays Jenny's younger version.

The narrative unfolds in a quest for identity, aspirations encapsulated within hut-shaped dreams, and the unforeseen toll of ambition. Toby's journey takes a turn, as his innocence transforms from a state of passivity into a resolute strength. Anand (Raj Deepak Shetty) a local power player, exploits Toby's simplicity for personal gain. While the village grapples with a series of disappearances, casting an ominous shadow upon Toby.

Toby's actions take a toll on his daughter, Jenny, an abandoned soul he had taken in his arms during one of the fishing camps with his friend Dhamodara. The catalyst behind this is Anand. What triggers Toby to distance himself from Jenny? Will he fathom Jenny's emotions, and will he deliver her rightful justice? The story culminates in a violent resolution.

TOBY
Director: Basil Alchakkal and Raj B Shetty
Cast: Raj B Shetty, Chaithra Achar, Samyukta Hornad, Gopalkrishna Deshpande

Against a backdrop of coastal aesthetics and narrative intrigue, punctuated by intermittent action, the characters' adventures reflect the strength each one possesses. But will the act of revenge bring forth justice? With an engaging storyline that mixes moments of excitement, when the story concludes. However, we wonder if seeking revenge will truly deliver fairness, was it a selfish move by Toby, ultimately leading to painful consequences?

The film, captured by Basil Alchakkal alongside Raj's embracing of a diverse array of elements, encounters a substantial challenge in its slow pacing and stylised slow-motion action. Raj, the creator of Toby strives to maintain a simple premise, focusing on emotions. One shouldn't anticipate unexpected twists and the climax when Toby appears on a horse with a nose ring, radiating grandeur. A splendid preclimax builds anticipation, ultimately culminating in the triumph of good over evil.

Within the succinct 8-page narrative of TK Dayanand, cleverly reimagined by writer Raj B Shetty, lies a treasure of hidden metaphors, beckoning us to delve deeper. Raj's strength in writing adds intricate layers to various scenes, an aspect not lost on the viewer. Toby is hard to slot into a genre but, in the end, presents itself as a revenge drama. The film thrives on a tapestry of performances and technical finesse. At the pinnacle stands the formidable Raj B Shetty himself, pouring his all into the character. Toby is a figure who can evoke love and hatred, but certainly cannot be ignored. His portrayal as a mute person, devoid of spoken words, he has conveyed through expressions, especially that mischievous laughter, at times haunts, resonating with a power that transcends language.

Chaithra, stepping into her role as Jenny, exhibits exceptional finesse, her challenges echoing the prowess of her co-star. Her portrayal of a determined woman, but she has been a source of misery blurs the line between acting and reality. Young Jenny's played by Snigdha is well-crafted with one-liners that provide delightful comic relief while adding depth to her character. . Samyukta's portrayal of a sex worker is well-portrayed. She encapsulates a nuanced perspective shaped by intimate encounters with society's intricacies. Then there's Bharath, a rookie police officer who introduces a twist in the end. He is someone who hesitates to pull the trigger but ultimately becomes the one calling the shots. Gopalkrishna Deshpande propels Toby's story forward, while Yogesh Bankeshwar, as the Father turned protector, becomes a member of Toby's family. Technically Midhun Mukundan's melodies, infuse the narrative with enchantment, and the two songs placed at good intervals enhance the story's emotions. Praveen Shriyan's cinematography enriches the film's visual texture, capturing both the grandeur of the nature of the coastal belt and the intimacy of Toby's experiences. Nithin Shetty at the editing desk faced a formidable task, and his efforts shine through.

Embedded within the cultural fabric, the Maari Gudi stands as an emblematic presence. Situated on the outskirts, it guards the village, with its deity evoking reverence and fear. Much like this deity, Toby embodies a comparable duality—a character forged by strength and vulnerability.

RATING 3.5/5

In the grand scheme of things, Toby offers a satisfying cinematic experience, yet it leaves a lingering sense of yearning for something more. Amid its multi-layered performances and visual sophistication, the film navigates a complex tapestry of human emotions.

Raj B Shetty's personal experience underscores the transformation of anguish into creative fuel. This journey begets Toby, a cinematic voyage delving into vulnerability and triumph. As the film ushers us into Toby's world, it kindles the thought, "Can art born from pain uplift us?"

THE JOKE IS ON US

KARTIK BHARADWAJ

IT'S hard to be a film reviewer. It is an arduous task to watch something and later replay in your mind's eye, frame by frame, the lackadaisical arrangement of scenes that makes for a movie these days. But that's how I would describe the aftertaste of watching Raaj Shaandilyaa's latest Dream Girl 2. It's just that your nightmare has a randy Abhishek Banerjee trying to grab a cross-dressed Ayushmann Khurrana in the bedroom, as 'Main Nikla Gaddi Leke' from Gadar (2001) plays in the background.

If I can make any sense of the plot, here goes. Ayushmann Khurrana is Karamveer "Karam" Singh (Karam means work) who is unemployed (geddit?). He is in love with Pari (Ananya Panday) who is named such only to slip in a 'Papa Ki Pari' punchline at places. Pari's dad Jaipal (Manoj Joshi) doesn't agree to their marriage, because Karam and his father Jagjit (Annu Kapoor) are bankrupt (their haveli is sealed by recovery agents). Jaipal gives Karam an ultimatum: get a house, a job and Rs 25 to 30 lakh in the bank account in six months or bid adieu to your marital dreams.

Now, if and only if you have seen the previous installment in the Dream Girl series, you won't find the following events preposterous. Karam's friend Smiley (Manjot Singh) suggests that in order to earn money he should dress up as a woman and dance in a bar. Karam does what he does best. He becomes Pooja in vocal and actual ("Karam hi Pooja hain"/ work is worship), does an item number and earns the droopy adoration of the dance bar's owner Sona Bhai (Vijay Raaz). Parallelly, Smiley isn't reduced to the hero's best friend and gets an arc. He is in love with Sakina, whose father Abu Saleem (Paresh Rawal) agrees to their union, on the condition that her elder brother Shahrukh Saleem (Abhishek Banerjee) gets out of depression after his recent breakup and marries. Smiley pleads Karam and now Pooja is Shahrukh's therapist because as per the film's writers (Raaj Shaandilyaa and Naresh Kathooria) 'naach gana lachak machak (dancing and singing)' are part of a psychiatrist's treatment. No points for guessing what comes next. Shahrukh falls for Pooja and they marry. Why does Karam agree? Because Shahrukh's wheelchair-bound grandfather Yusuf Ali (Asrani) is offering Rs 30 lakh. Some comedy of errors and a lot of suspension of all beliefs follows. Seema Pahwa, as Paresh Rawal's sister Jumani, falls for Karam, Rajpal Yadav, as Abhishek Banerjee's step-brother Shaukiya, falls for Pooja, Annu Kapoor's Jagjit falls for Jumani, Pooja's oranges for a bosom fall off. The turbulent plot ultimately goes into autopilot. It becomes difficult to decipher if you are laughing with the film, at the film or on yourself.

DREAM GIRL 2
Directed by: Raaj Shaandilyaa
Starring: Ayushmann Khurrana, Ananya Panday, Annu Kapoor, Paresh Rawal

RATING 1/5

Ayushmann Khurrana emotes Pooja with ease and tries almost all gags in his repository (there is also the famous Ayushmann Khurrana monologue) but the result is lacklustre and above all forgetful. Ananya Panday's Pari is an unimaginative woman written by men. Thankfully, she is given a job (she is a lawyer) but that detail is only there to serve a dialogue (Karam tells her, "Being a lawyer doesn't mean you have to be suspicious of your own relationship"). The character is more of Panday's attempt to connect with Tier-2 city audiences. She slips in an uneven north Indian accent in places but that's it.

Most punchlines land awkwardly and are as amusing as a man trying to balance on one leg. Sadly, the writing revels in wisecracks that fall under the ambit of body-shaming, slut-shaming and all sorts of shaming. I did laugh at times, then hated myself for it.

Although it was loud and on-the-nose, the 2019 Dream Girl had a fleeting message on loneliness and the need for friendship. It was also coherent. The sequel feels hurried and there is a line or two about the ordeal of 'being' a woman rather than 'becoming' one. But this comes after Vijay Raaz's Sona Bhai describes Seema Pahwa as a "flop film he has watched even after interval." Don't know which one he is talking about.
